Promises of tomorrow are illustrated in these sights which are familiar to East students; the sunset in rural East Fairmont, Valley Falls State Park and the E.F.H.S. campus.

There's got to be a morning after . . .

If we can hold on through this day. Tomorrow's accomplishments are built on and created today. Each tomorrow is as vital as all year's past.

Game Highlights Special Week

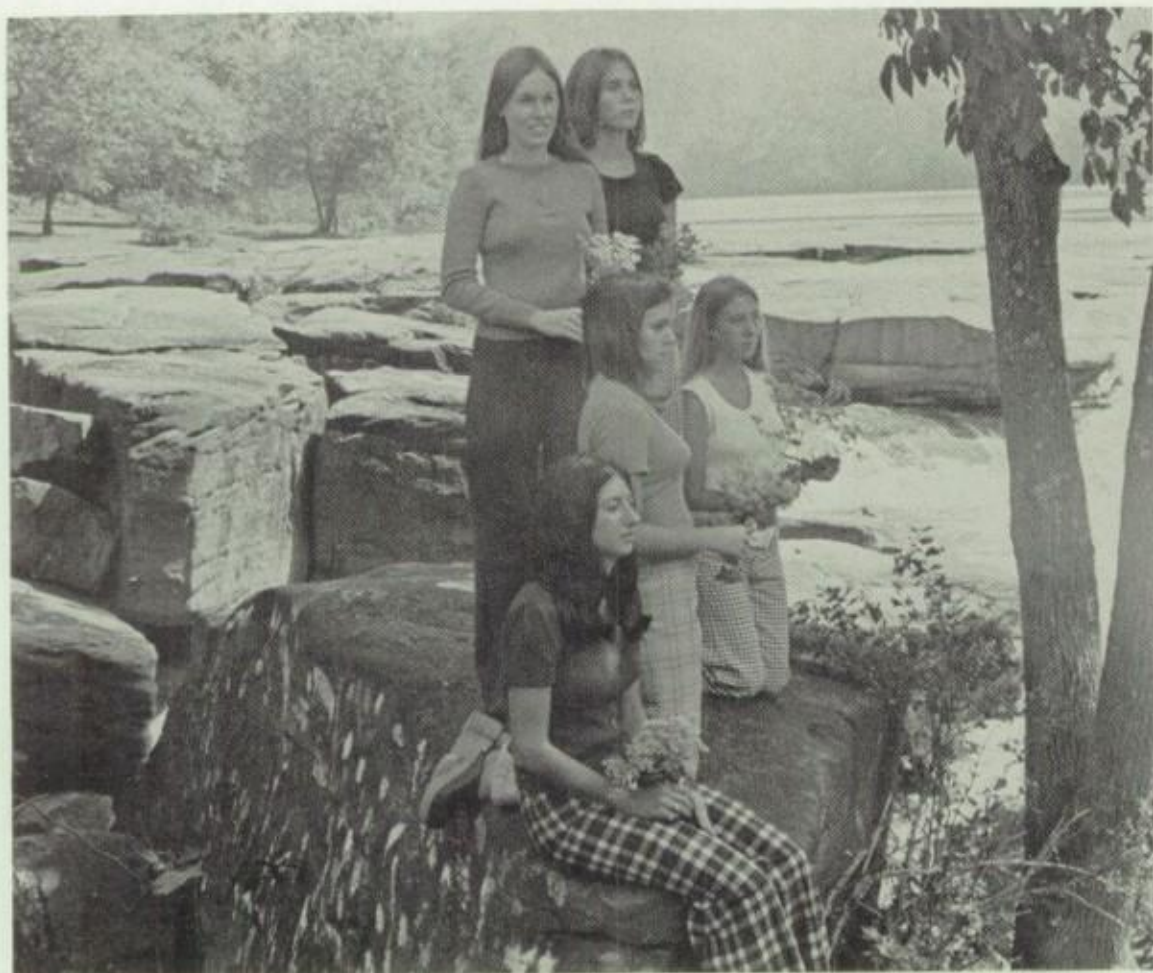

'That Certain September' provided the theme for the sixteenth Homecoming, September 28-29.

Queen for the annual Homecoming was Debbie Yann, selected by members of the varsity football team.

Sharon Moore, 1972 Homecoming Queen, crowned Queen Debbie at halftime ceremonies at the East-Bridgeport game.

Flower girl and crown bearer for the 1973 Homecoming were Carla Dee Sabatino and Bret Robert Yann, cousins of Queen Debbie.

Student Council Plans Activities

Many festivities were held throughout homecoming week, September 24-29.

Court members were honored with mums and decorated locker.

Tuesday was the annual Twirp Day and Mike Sacchetti, sophomore, and Matt Sachetti, senior, were both named "Mr. Irresistible."

Sadie Hawkins Day was held Wednesday giving the girls a chance to ask their favorite guy to the dance. The Dogpatch Duo were Kim Shaffer and Marty Butcher.

Activities reached a peak Friday night during the crowning of Queen Debbie Yann followed by the dance on Saturday.

Daily Activities Promote Spirit

Outlined by the cheerleaders, classes competed for spirit links, hall decorations, homeroom doors — and spirit king and queen candidates. 'There's got to be a mourning after' was the freshman theme while sophomores chose 'Beat the West out of Fairmont.' Freshmen won the first place as most spirited class and sophomores gained the best hall award. Thursday an assembly was held by seniors detailing their theme 'East Side Story.' Juniors' 'Tale of a bee victory' was centered around nursery characters. A Mr. Legs contest, Friday afternoon thuse, bonfire, sockhop and dance were sponsored by the cheerleaders. Keyettes held a 'Breakfast for Champions' Friday for the entire team.

Students Act; Promote Spirit

Boosting Bee enthusiasm before the East-West clash, members of the senior class held a lunch hour assembly in the gym. Bob Hank of WMMN assisted as students acted out a classroom skit, sockhop, pool hall quartet, mugging and commercials. Levi Lincoln and the Blue Darrenger were singers portrayed by Denny Burnworth and Kevin Carter.

An assembly planned by the cheerleaders, showed West being badly beaten by East in a football game, with girls dressed as the players.

American Education Week was presented to the student body by speeches on the topics of education.

Seniors Stage Annual Classic

On November 25, the Senior Class presented the sixth annual Turkey Bowl. The game pitted the top talent in the school against each other. Costello's 'Italian Army' and Cianfrocca's 'Gamecocks' opposed each other with Costello's 'Italian Army' coming out on top by a 23-16 score. Kevin Carter was named most valuable player in the game on the basis of his five interceptions.

Turkey Bowl Queen and four goblets were honored during the half time ceremonies. Queen Tish Mezzanotte was crowned while her goblets, Patty Grindo, Jenni Cain, Debbie Swiger and Debbie Yann, looked on.

A Turkey Bowl Ball was held on the eve of the big game, with all proceeds going to the Senior Class.

Debi Swiger Reigns Queen

Crowned Miss East Fairmont at the Fairmont State College Ballroom on January 26 by student body president, Brad Dean, was Debi Swiger.

Attired in white, the queen's court included four attendants and nine princesses. 'Fantasy Amid the Alps' was sponsored by the senior class with Pat Costello, Becky Waggoner and Gina Fantasia serving as chairmen. Jenny Cain headed decorations while Karen Gonda was hospitality chairman, Carla Long and Patty Perrella was refreshment chairmen and Debi Swiger coronation chairman.

Larry Williams painted the giant backdrop of an alpine scene assisted by Jim Nichols. Programs and napkins were designed by Karen Gonda.

Alpine Fantasy Chosen Theme

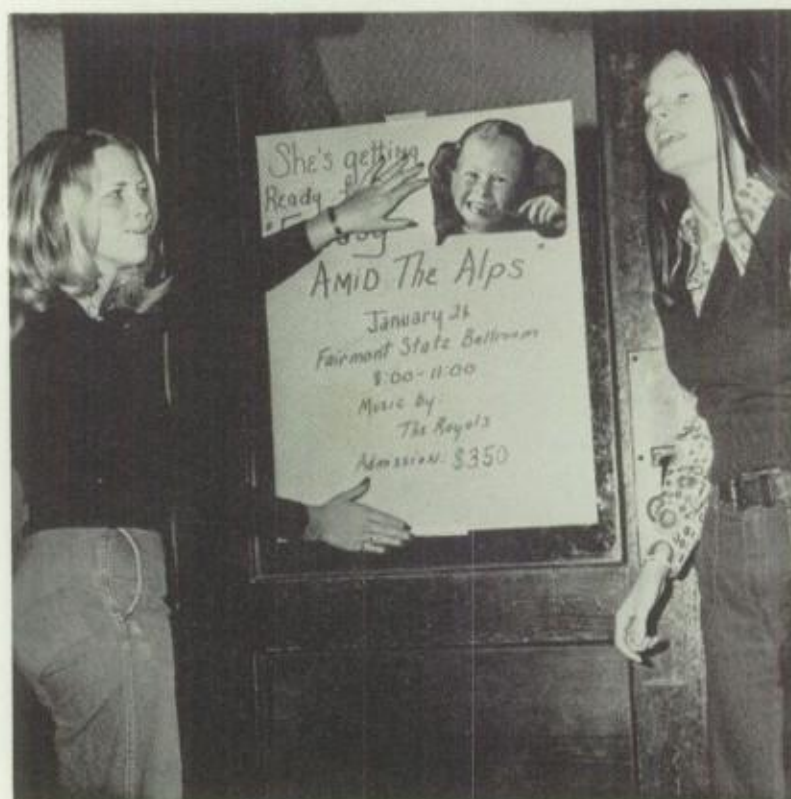

Snow covered pines and pine branches, silver snow flakes and the Alpine back drop decorated the ballroom. Banana, nut and sweetened bread, brownies and chocolate punch were served by underclassmen.

'Royals' provided popular numbers for the dance and during the coronation. Publicity for the dance was directed by Ann Murray and Harriett Sturm. Class members sold tickets at $3.50 per couple and pictures were purchased at the dance from photographer Raymond Ford.

The dance which lasted from eight until eleven p.m. was chaperoned by faculty members.

Court members wore various colored long sleeved gowns and carried matching bouquets.

Frank DiMaria and Mrs. Nancy Thompson serve as class sponsors.

Debbie Stout Reigns Queen

'Out In The Country' provided the theme for the Junior-Senior prom as Debbie Stout reigned as queen.

Selected by the Junior Class members were Queen Debbie, Maid-of-Honor Cathy Meo and the court.

Upon being announced, the court was honored with white carnations tipped in silver presented by Mrs. Kathy Channell.

The country theme was carried out by a front porch scene, a wishing well, and a weeping willow tree.

The dance was held April 27, at the Fairmont State College Ballroom with music provided by Frank DeWitt and the Drifters.

Sponsors for the dance were Mrs. Virginia Securro and Larry Hart.

Student Lives With Asterino's

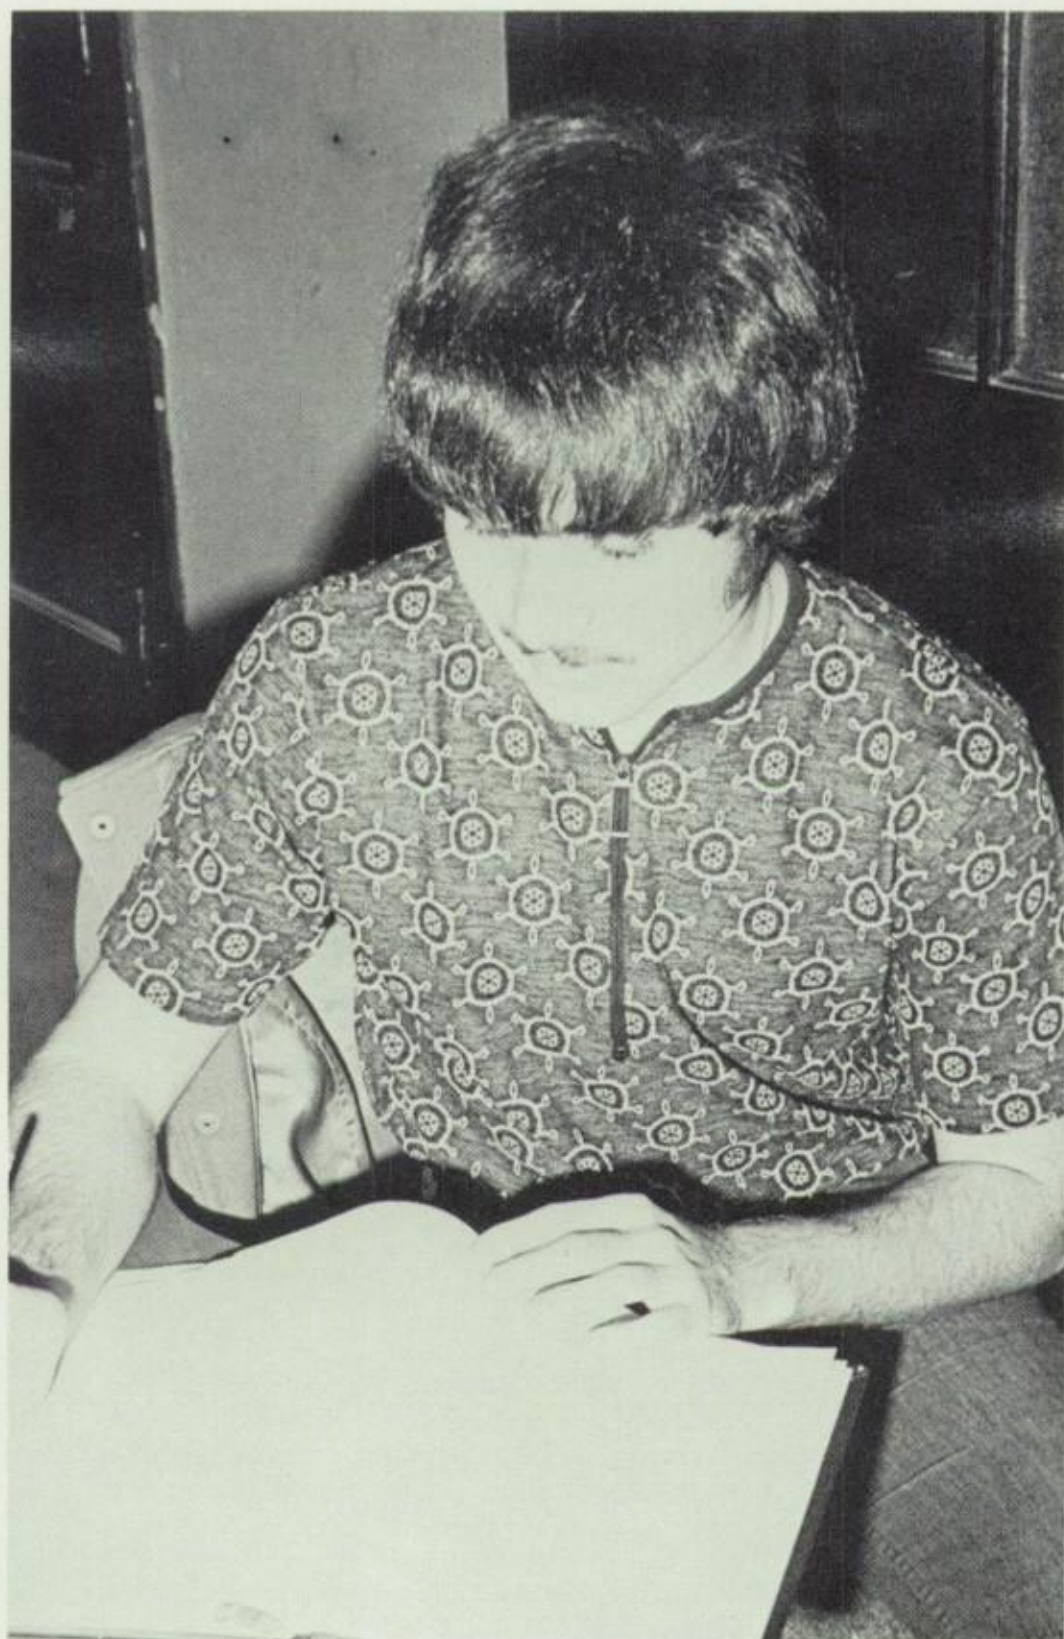

Under a three month exchange program, Jeanina Rendon of Equador is a visiting student at East. During her stay, she resides with the family of junior, Pam Asterino. The exchange was initiated by the student council as the year's most outstanding project.

Led by president Brad Dean, vice-president Ann Murray, secretary Tish Mezzanotte and delegate-at-large Matt DeVito, seniors, the group was represented at West Virginia Wesleyan State Student Council Workshop and State Convention at Jackson's Mill.

Being an all volunteer council, approximately one hundred students met each Monday during noon hour in Mrs. Virginia Securo's room. Sponsor is Mrs. Evelyn Black.

Huff Speaks To Athletes

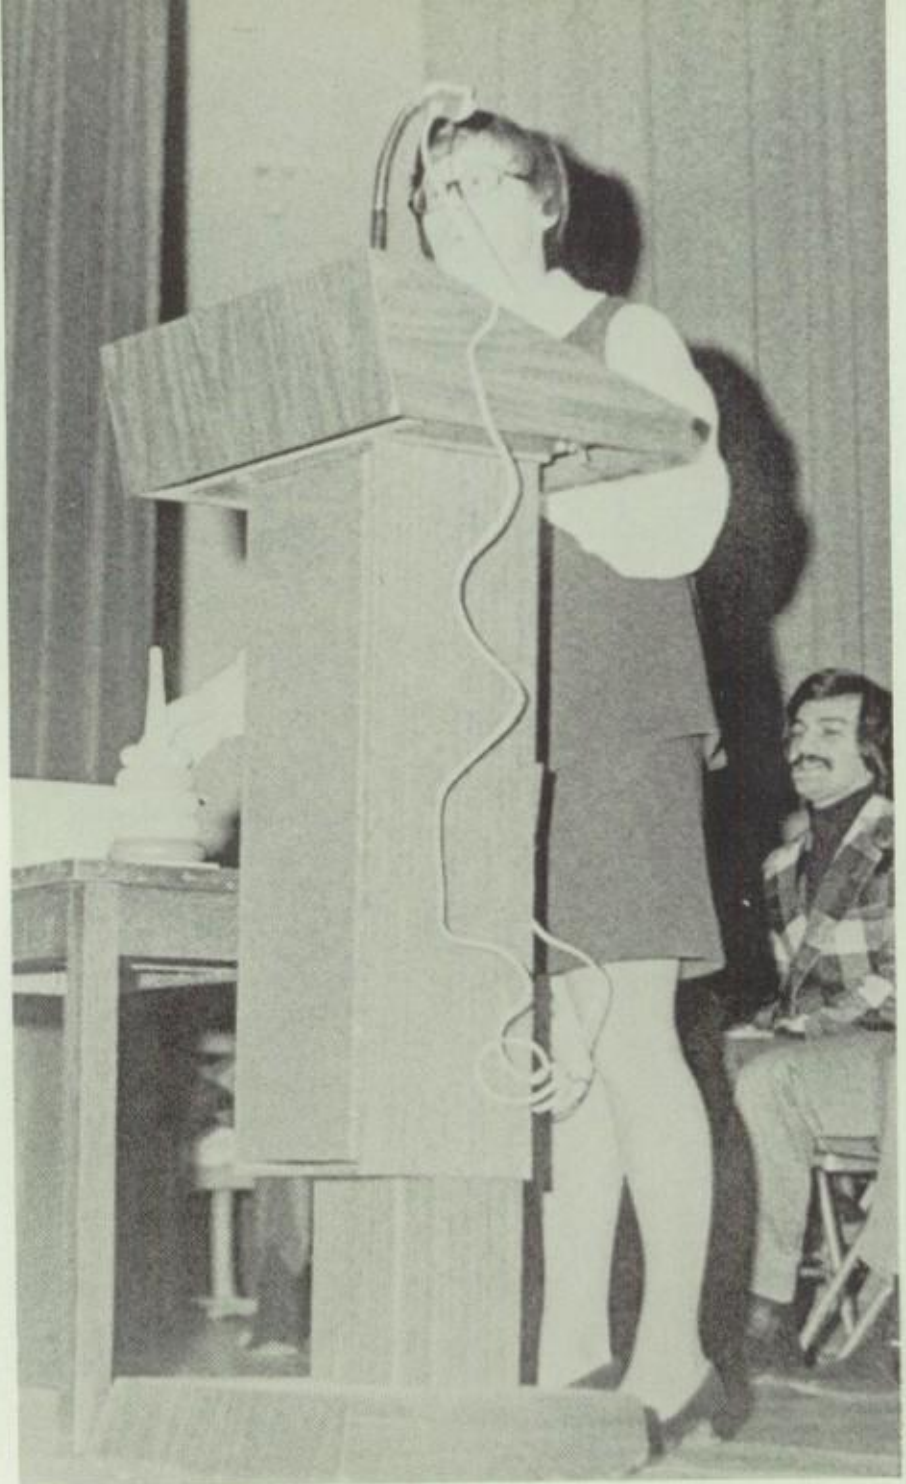

At the annual athletic banquet, Sam Huff, former football player was the guest speaker. The athletic banquet which was held during the last part of the school year followed the year's other council activities; Homecoming Week, National Education Week, foreign exchange, domestic exchange within the state, and Christmas activities.

On the front campus a holiday tree was decorated by council members and letters were placed from top floor windows. Caroling and a party as well as a toy drive were carried out during the season.

Sponsoring Orientation Day, members served as guides and speakers to acquaint new students to the school.

Seventeen seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society at a special assembly for juniors and seniors.

Guest speakers for the fall induction were Mrs. Joyce McVicker, first National Honor Society president and Kenneth Miller, Michael Overking and Frank Bilotta, all alumni of East. The speakers explained their views and memories of the organization. Parents of the inductees were presented at the assembly and following it, a tea was held in the library.

Mrs. Virginia Seccuro is the society sponsor with Allan Keener serving as president, Karen Pride, vice president, Carla Long, secretary and Tish Mezzanotte, treasurer.

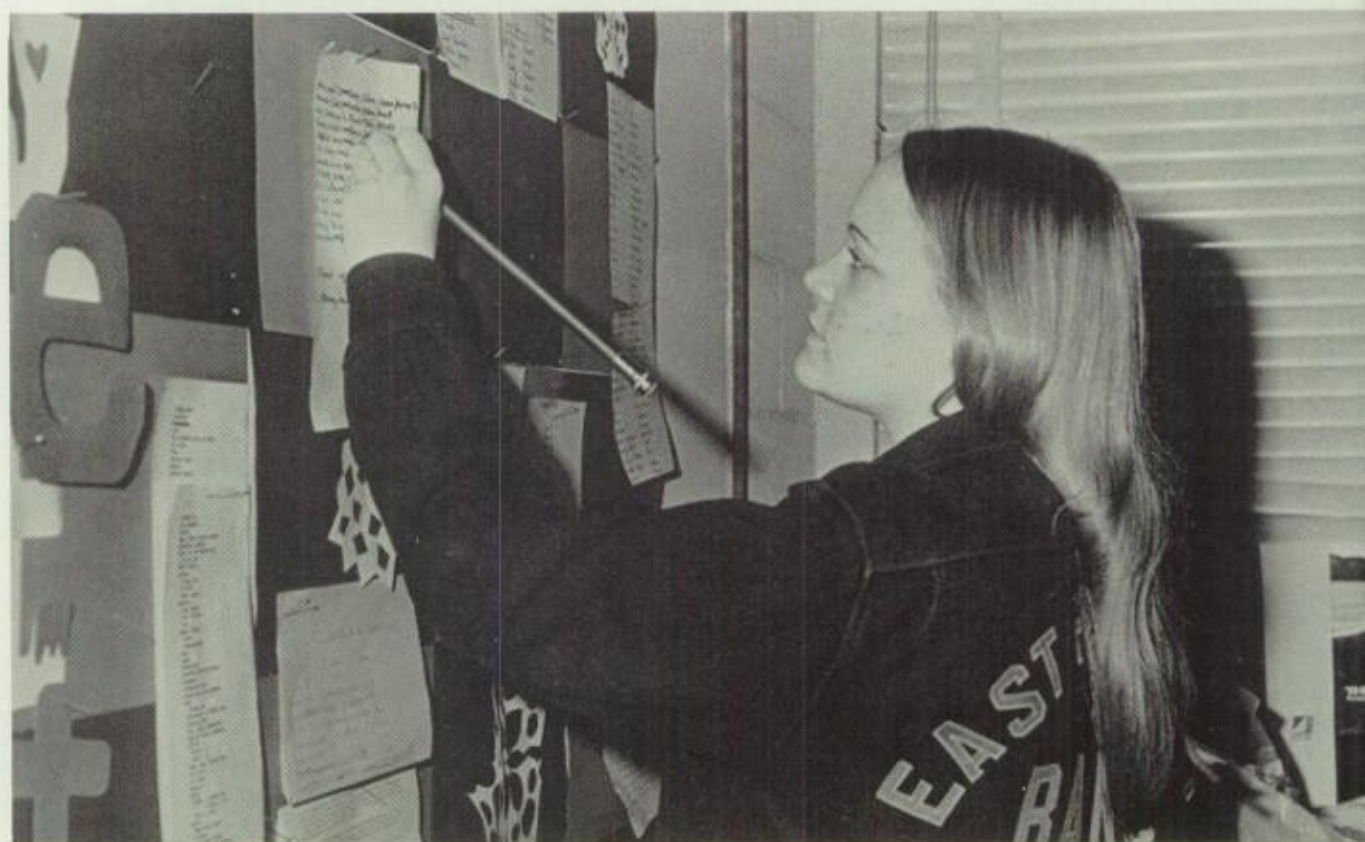

Members Paint 600 Lockers

Summer found Keyettes busy planting 80 trees on campus, planning teas, marking junk cars, painting trash cans, placing signs in football players' yards for the first game and serving players after the first heavy practice.

Civic minded members aided youth opportunity camp, speech and language clinic, Red Cross, March of Dimes, VFW, Operation Childhunt, Kiwanis functions, Salvation Army and a clean a mile project.

Congressman Robert Mollohan addressed the group as the monthly speaker in February. Other monthly projects include visiting nursing homes, churches, shut-ins, sponsoring 'Big Sis' parties and teacher aids.

Following tradition, members sponsored a variety show, float and annual dinners.

Club Observes National Week

'Newspapers: Your Foundation of Free Choice' served as the theme of National Journalism Week in October. In observance of the annual week, journalism students and Quill and Scroll members along with DECA students decorated the show window of Murphy's downtown.

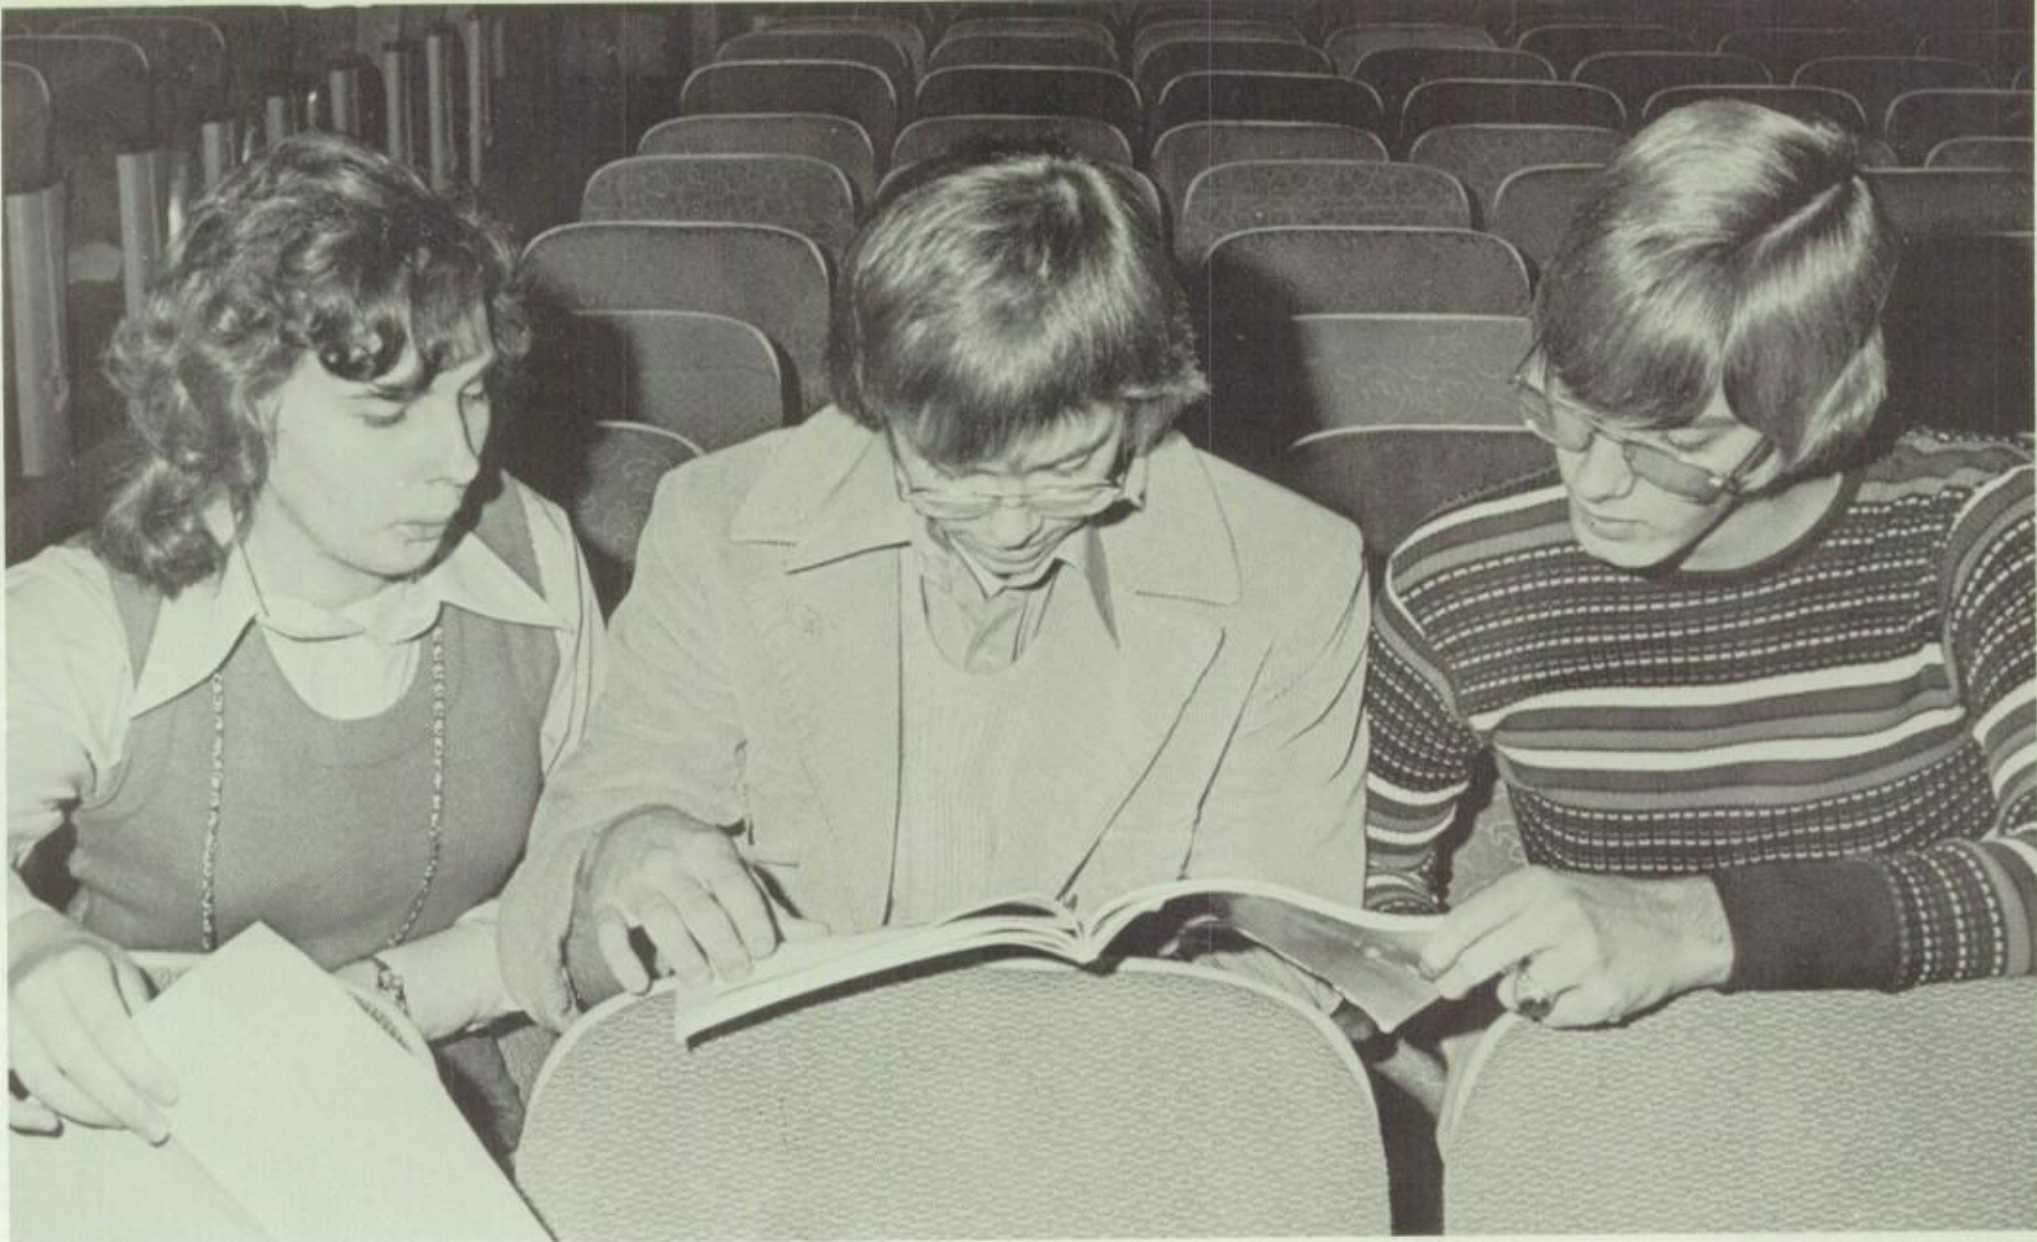

At Christmas, a party was held for members of the Orion, Yellow Jacket, ball programs and Bee Lines staffs. Names were drawn and gifts were exchanged. In accordance to the holiday season, refreshments were served.

Inductions were held in the fall and spring when students were granted membership after completing club requirements of handing in a hundred inches of printed publications.

Actors Present 'Odd Couple'

Under the direction of Mrs. Kathy Channell, Thespians presented the play, "The Odd Couple" in February. Lead roles were performed by Debi Swiger, Sandy Dillow, Steve Wilson, Jim Peluso, and Jim Nichols. A matinee and evening performances were both given for students and the public.

John Nigh served as president of the club this year. Nancy Arnett and Shelley Smith served as vice president and secretary while Mike Feorene was treasurer.

A spring induction installed new members who met club requirements of obtaining the sufficient amount of points and pledging by wearing beanies and serving old members.

Key, Keyettes Sponsor Show

Sponsoring the Variety Show with the Keyettes was the major project of Key Club members.

Under the leadership of club president Steve Wilson, the club also joined with Keyettes to build a Veteran's Day float, 'Look Unto This Day.' The float, built at Steve Wilson's and Gina Fantasia's homes, won first place in float competition. Attending International Convention was Steve Wilson and Jim Peluso. Members also attended State Convention in Charleston during April.

Painting the campus benches blue and gold, sponsoring a Big Brother program and raising money for a single service project were projects of the club.

Club, Sponsor Plan Activities

Helping plan activities for the club along with the officers was Mrs. Ruth Phillips, sponsor for the Mu Alpha Theta. President for the club is senior Paul Martin with vice-president Carmen Meluzio, secretary Shelley Smith and treasurer John Six.

Activities planned included a gift exchange and party at Christmas, Math Day activities and the annual spring induction of new members in March. Club members attended the Fairmont Senior High School induction in January. Members from the Fairmont State College Mu Alpha Theta visited the East Fairmont club members to speak with them about their club.

Students must obtain three years of higher math and a 3.0 scholastic average to be a member of the club.

Library Offers Various Aids

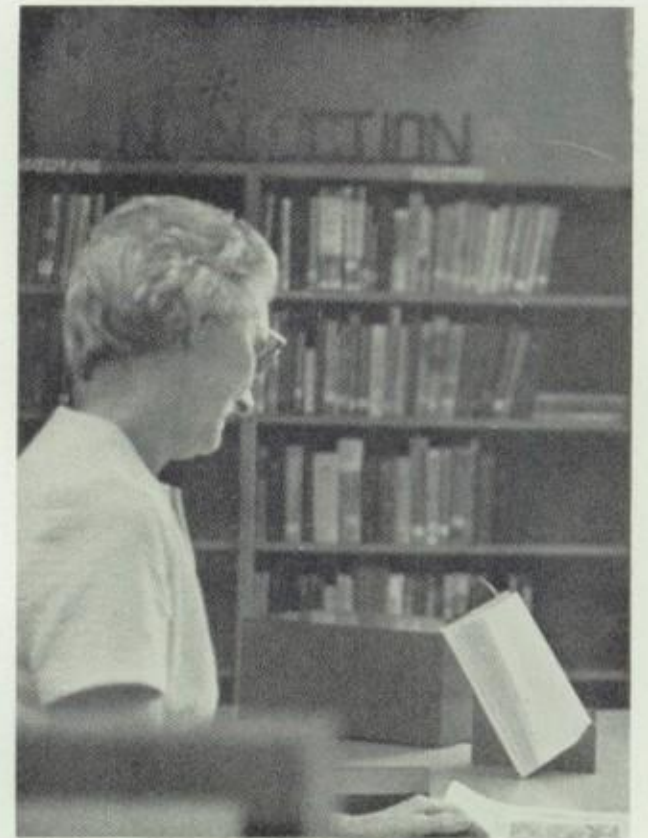

Working from 7:15 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. the library is open every day to help serve the students and faculty.

By the end of the year, Mrs. Esther Powers and Mrs. Thelma Cain hope that every student learns to use the library wisely.

Librarian duties are using the card catalogue, filing, getting ready for circulation and repairing books.

Highlighting the year were the state library club convention, Halloween party and the teacher's tea.

Requirements for obtaining membership are interest in the library's operation, faculty recommendations and 3.0 scholastic average. Induction of new members takes place in September.

Officers Lead Club Projects

Serving as officers for the Y-Teens are president Pam Myers, vice-president Debbie Nelson, secretary Patti Hall, treasurer Sharlene Smock and ICC representative Jody Hammond.

The most important event for the Y-Teens was the tea that was held for the teachers in the library on December 17.

Other activities include favors for the teachers, caroling at Unity Terrace followed by a part where gifts were exchanged, a rummage sale, and State Convention, which was held in November at Jackson's Mill. Attending the convention were Pam Myers, Cindy Springer, Mamie Sivn-sky and Jody Hammond.

Mrs. Nancy Wood served as sponsor.

Two Elected To State Office

Under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Thompson, the Distributive Education classes of America club continued operation for the second year. The group organized several activities as well as learning the fundamentals of businesses and salesmanship.

Janis Brenneman was elected state DECA treasurer and Kim Hardway vice-president at state DECA convention. The Bee Boutique was opened on the top floor next to the entrance to the auditorium balcony. The store, managed by DECA, sold items useful in school as well as during free time.

For the second consecutive year, the organization presented a fashion show, using students, teachers, and children as models.

Spanish Club Lead by Wise

Serving as officers for the first Spanish Club were president Lucy Wise, senior; vice-president John Six, senior; secretary Debbie Stout, junior; and treasurer Valeree Morris, junior.

Activities for the Spanish Club included ringing bells for the Salvation Army at the Mall during the Christmas holidays. The club went Christmas caroling and following the caroling, a party was held for all Spanish Club members at Maribeth Overking's home.

Next year the club plans more activities such as bake sales and induction dinner.

Mrs. Lynn Muhvich, Spanish teacher, served as sponsor for the Spanish Club.

Elects Long To Lead Club

Officers for the 1973-1974 French Club were president Carla Long, senior; vice-president Cathy Meo, junior; secretary Lucy Wise, senior; and treasurer Jo Ellen Camele, junior.

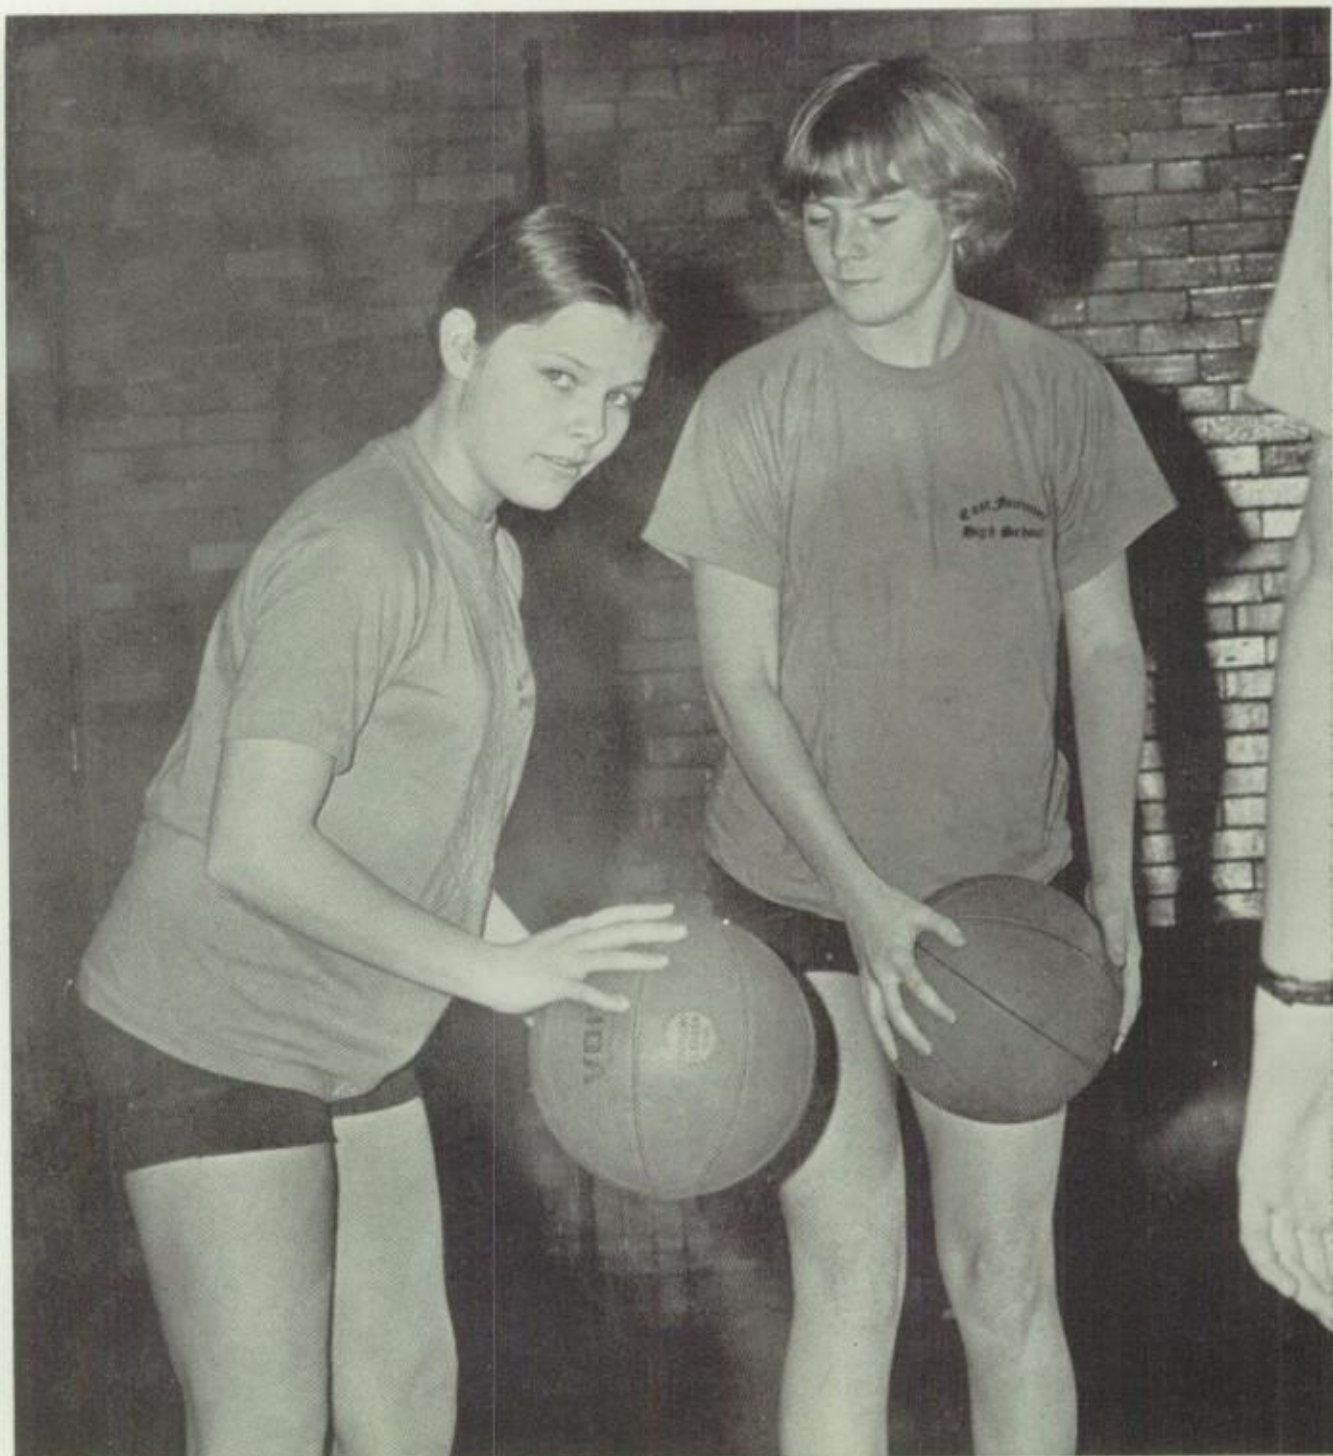

Leading the list of activities for the French Club was the annual induction dinner held in the cafeteria at which twenty-five new members were inducted.

Other activities included a bake sale that was held at Foodland, Christmas caroling in December and the club also helped the French Honorary sell calendars through November and December.

The French Club was sponsored by two teachers, Mrs. Ginny Beaford and Mrs. Lynn Muhvich.

Playday, Trip Highlights Year

To advance the athletic interests in girls who have accumulated through participation in noon hour sports one hundred points, constitutes the program of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Inductees were required to wear their father's shirt and a skirt, curlers and two different shoes. Club sponsor, Mrs. Leah Martin and Mrs. Paula Vilone, judged these girls on the prettiest, ugliest and most original.

During the year the club held playdays, a bowling party, Christmas sing and a trip to Sea World.

Officers for the year were president Cathy Moreman, vice-president Pam Smith, secretary Lola Stoller, point chairman Jenny Guy and sergeant-at-arms Lucy Swisher.

DeVito Heads New Council

Painting new barrels for the Marion County State Police Department was the major project of the newly formed Safety Council. Holly DeVito, senior, served as club president while senior Bob Williams, Gina Fantasia, and Becky Waggoner were elected vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

David Harper, driver education instructor, was named Council sponsor. Plans to attend National Safety Club Convention in the spring and to observe functions of the State Police by sending student members on their routes were outlined by the board.

Fund raising projects included selling flares and automotive accessories.

Membership is open to any present or previous driver education student.

Channell Leads Forensic Group

English instructor, Mrs. Kathy Channell is the new sponsor of the East forensic group whose main event of the year was the participation in a state forensic tournament. The tournament was held during the weekend of February 8 and 9 at Marshall University in Huntington.

Toni Anselene won second place on her 'Voice of Democracy' speech in regional competition.

Bartholow Elected French Honorary President

Serving as officers for the French Honorary were seniors, president Don Bartholow; vice-president Lucy Wise; secretary Julia Brand; and treasurer Gina Fantasia.

Activities that the club was indulged in were selling 1974 calendars through the months of November and December and an induction dinner for new members which was held in March.

To qualify for the honorary, one must have a 'B' average for three semesters.

The regular French Honorary meetings were held the first Wednesday of every month.

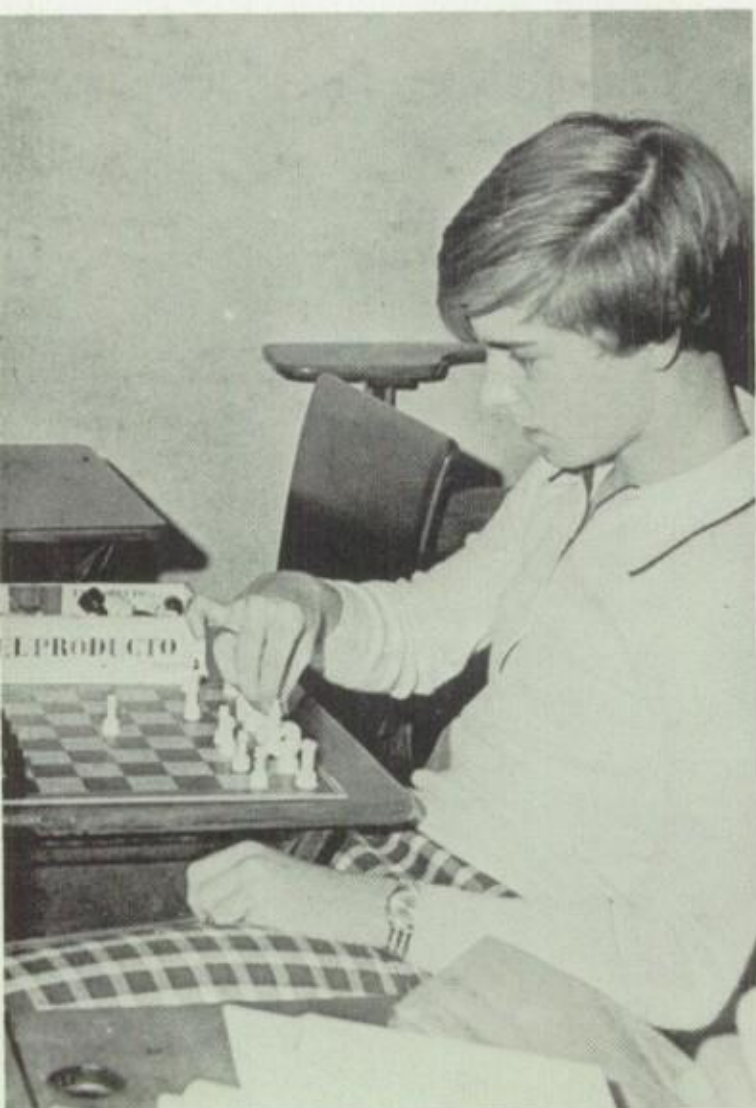

Sponsors for the honorary were Mrs. Ginny Beafore and Mrs. Lynn Muhvich.

Chess Players Hold Tourney

With a membership of twelve, noon hour chess players participated in club activities daily. Officers are seniors Greg White, president, Lester Henderson, vice-president and Jim Henderson, secretary-treasurer who organized the group as the year climaxed with championship eliminations. Greg White, participating in tournament competition, will enter the games with a three year win title.

Regular chess players are juniors Joe Kennedy, Bruce Rose, Gerald Stevens and Tom Janes along with freshmen Tom Williams, Brian Rose and Randy Murray.

Meeting after fourth period, the club is sponsored by James Migaiolo and meetings are held in his classroom.

Athletes Revive Inactive Club

President Matt DeVito, vice-president Pat Costello, secretary-treasurer Danny Seccuro and sergeant-at-arms Eddie Shuck along with sponsor Joe Ross, were the leaders in reviving the Letterman's Club at East Fairmont.

The club participated in two main projects this year: making and selling submarines and donating canned food to the needy families in the surrounding areas.

The only qualification for admission into the club is that one must have lettered in at least one sport. There are seven sports that a boy can letter in at East. They are football, basketball, wrestling, track, baseball, golf and cross-country.

Cheering Aids Team Spirit

Beginning on June 27, the 1973-74 spirit boosters senior Patricia Mezzanotte, head, Jenni Cain, Harriett Sturm, Patty Grindo and juniors Linda Iaquina and Susie Smith headed for Chambersburgh, Pennsylvania to attend the Golden Eagle Cheerleading Schools at Penn Hills Junior College. Also attending were the junior varsity squad sophomores Melanie Cinilli, Pam Summers and Dawna Sickles. Both squads learned new cheering techniques, pom pom routines, tumbling skills and attended lectures and workshops.

Varsity cheerleaders, along with freshmen homeroom teachers, selected the Freshman Class cheerleaders. Elected were Leisa Snyder, Penny Drummond, Pam Reese and Bridget Vincent.

Spirit Boosters Lead Activities

Swimming party held at Fairmont Municipal Pool on August 11 started off the cheerleaders extra activities. Other activities include a Play Night at the gymnasium on October 20, a sock-hop with Bobby Hank on November 2, a Victory Dance featuring the 'Royals' on November 3 and leading many of the activities held during East-West Week.

The cheerleaders also sold gold and blue jerseys, miniature footballs and basketballs, calendars with the football and basketball schedules, Beat West shirts and shakers. Signs were made for the boys lockers, for the halls and the gymnasium before games.

Stingers Win Four Contests

Change was the key word of the 1973 gridiron campaign as coach Joe Ross led his Big Bee squad to a deceptive 4-6 mark.

Forced to change their offense due to an inconsistent ground attack, the East gridders had to rely on the passing game and a strong defense.

Never completely out of a game at halftime, the Bees had a chance to win any game on the schedule.

Injuries and inexperience played a big part in the up-and-down season as many underclassmen were pressed into frontline duty.

Ed Shuck led the team in scoring with 46 points. Dan Securro, R. D. Morrison, Sam Morrone and John Kuroski won post season honors.

Gridders Beat Monongah 16-14

Playing Monongah in the annual opener, the Bees won a hard-fought contest. John Cervo scampered 44 yards for the winning tally.

East won a breather over Phillip Barbour as R. D. Morrison caught a 50 yard touchdown bomb and Danny Securro rambled 55 yards with an intercepted pass.

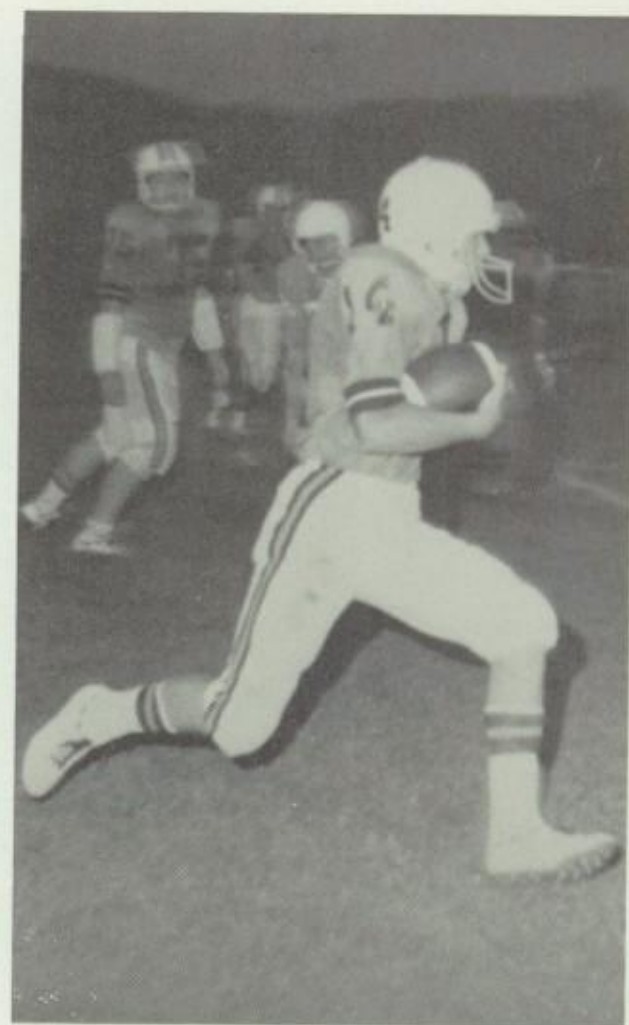

Morgantown handed the Bees their first defeat with Ed Shuck scoring the lone touchdown.

East was stopped again by a strong Brooke County squad. John Kuroski threw scoring tosses to Ron Vangilder and Brent Burton.

Bridgeport set the Bees back for the third straight time. The highlight for East was a 98 yard touchdown run by R. D. Morrison on a fumble.

Bees Stave Off Late Comeback

Traveling to Elkins, the big Bees took a 24-0 lead to halftime, but had to hold off a second half rally to achieve a victory. R. D. Morrison scored twice on long pass receptions while Jim Jenkins scored from four yards out.

Still on the road, East walloped a hapless Grafton team. Brent Burton and Ed Shuck scored on runs, with Rick Boyles and Dan Seccuro each adding tallies.

The Bees barely missed upsetting powerful Buckhannon. Jim Jenkins and Ed Shuck scored the Bee touchdowns. Lewis County dealt East its fifth loss of the season. Ed Shuck and John Kuroski scored the lone Bee touchdowns.

Loss To West Finishes Year

Enthusiasm was high for the annual East-West game. The big Bees put up a good fight and had nothing to be ashamed of in their loss to the state's top ranked team. East took an early 16-0 lead and it appeared as if they were on their way to a stunning upset. But the powerful and timely running of the Polar Bears did the Bees in. Penalties and injuries also led to their downfall.

The Bees finished their season at 4-6, but with a few breaks and a little luck, they could have been 10-0. Several underclassmen gained valuable experience and are looking forward to next year's season with optimism.

J.V.'s Compile Late Comeback

Winning all seven games on their schedule, East Fairmont's junior varsity football team compiled an undefeated season. Led by Juniors Rick Boyles and Davy Shaw along with sophomores Gary Boyles, Mike Sacchetti and Kenny Bissett, the Bees proved to opponents that they had better be ready for next year's varsity squad.

On their way to their perfect season the Bees nipped Elkins 20-12, demolished Morgantown 38-0, shut out Phillip Barbour 26-0, beat Buckhannon 36-8 and conquered Liberty 26-12. They won by forfeit over Bridgeport and West Fairmont. Against Buckhannon, Ricky Boyles scored three touchdowns and Mike Sacchetti blocked two punts and intercepted three passes.

Plebe Gridders Finish At .500

Finishing with a .500 season record, East Fairmont's freshmen football team gained valuable game experience.

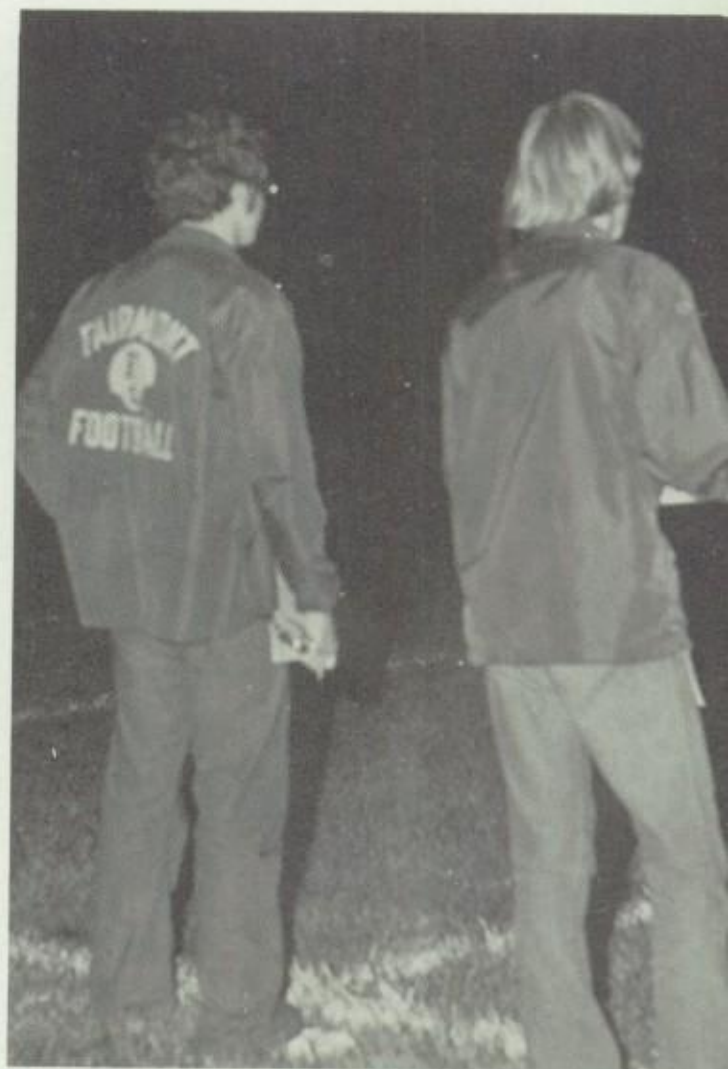

The Plebes, led by standouts Tom Lough, Marc Cervo, Bill Kuroski, Ed Kanios, Harry Cumpston, and Randy Michaels, defeated three opponents while losing on three occasions.

The Bees won their opener against West Fairmont by a score of 14-6. Bill Kuroski kicked two PATs. The Cubs prevailed over East in their rematch, 13-12. East also beat Buckhannon and shut out Grafton.

Elkins and Bridgeport handed the Bees their only other losses. After their season, twelve of the freshmen gridders were selected to practice with the varsity team.

Height, Speed Key to Season

Superior height and strong guard play were the keys to the successful East cage season.

Using the strong rebounding of Darrell Carpenter, Matt Sachetti, and Steve Denham and the shooting and ballhandling of R. D. Morrison, Pat Costello, and Ed Shuck, the Bees were a strong contender in the Big Ten.

Veteran coach Jim Cale's roundballers combined a balanced scoring offense and a tight man-to-man defense as their formula for victory.

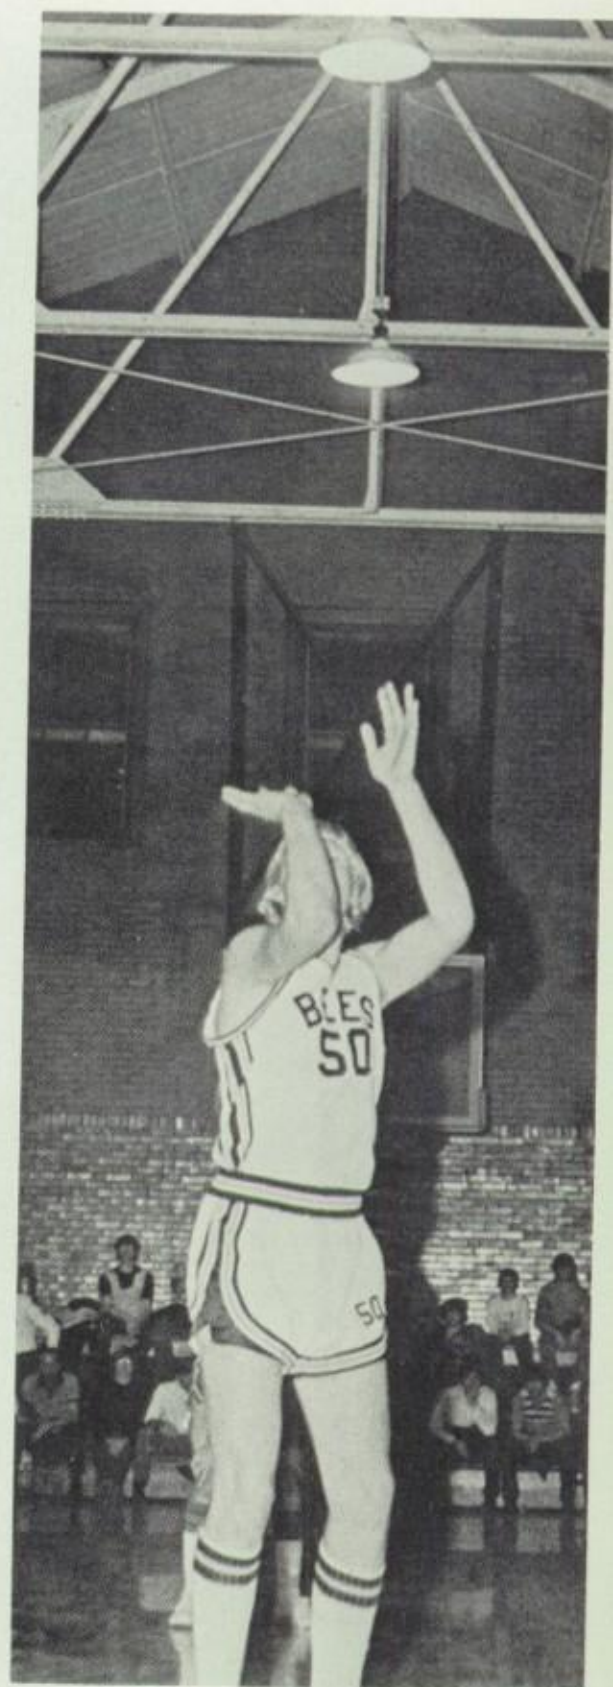

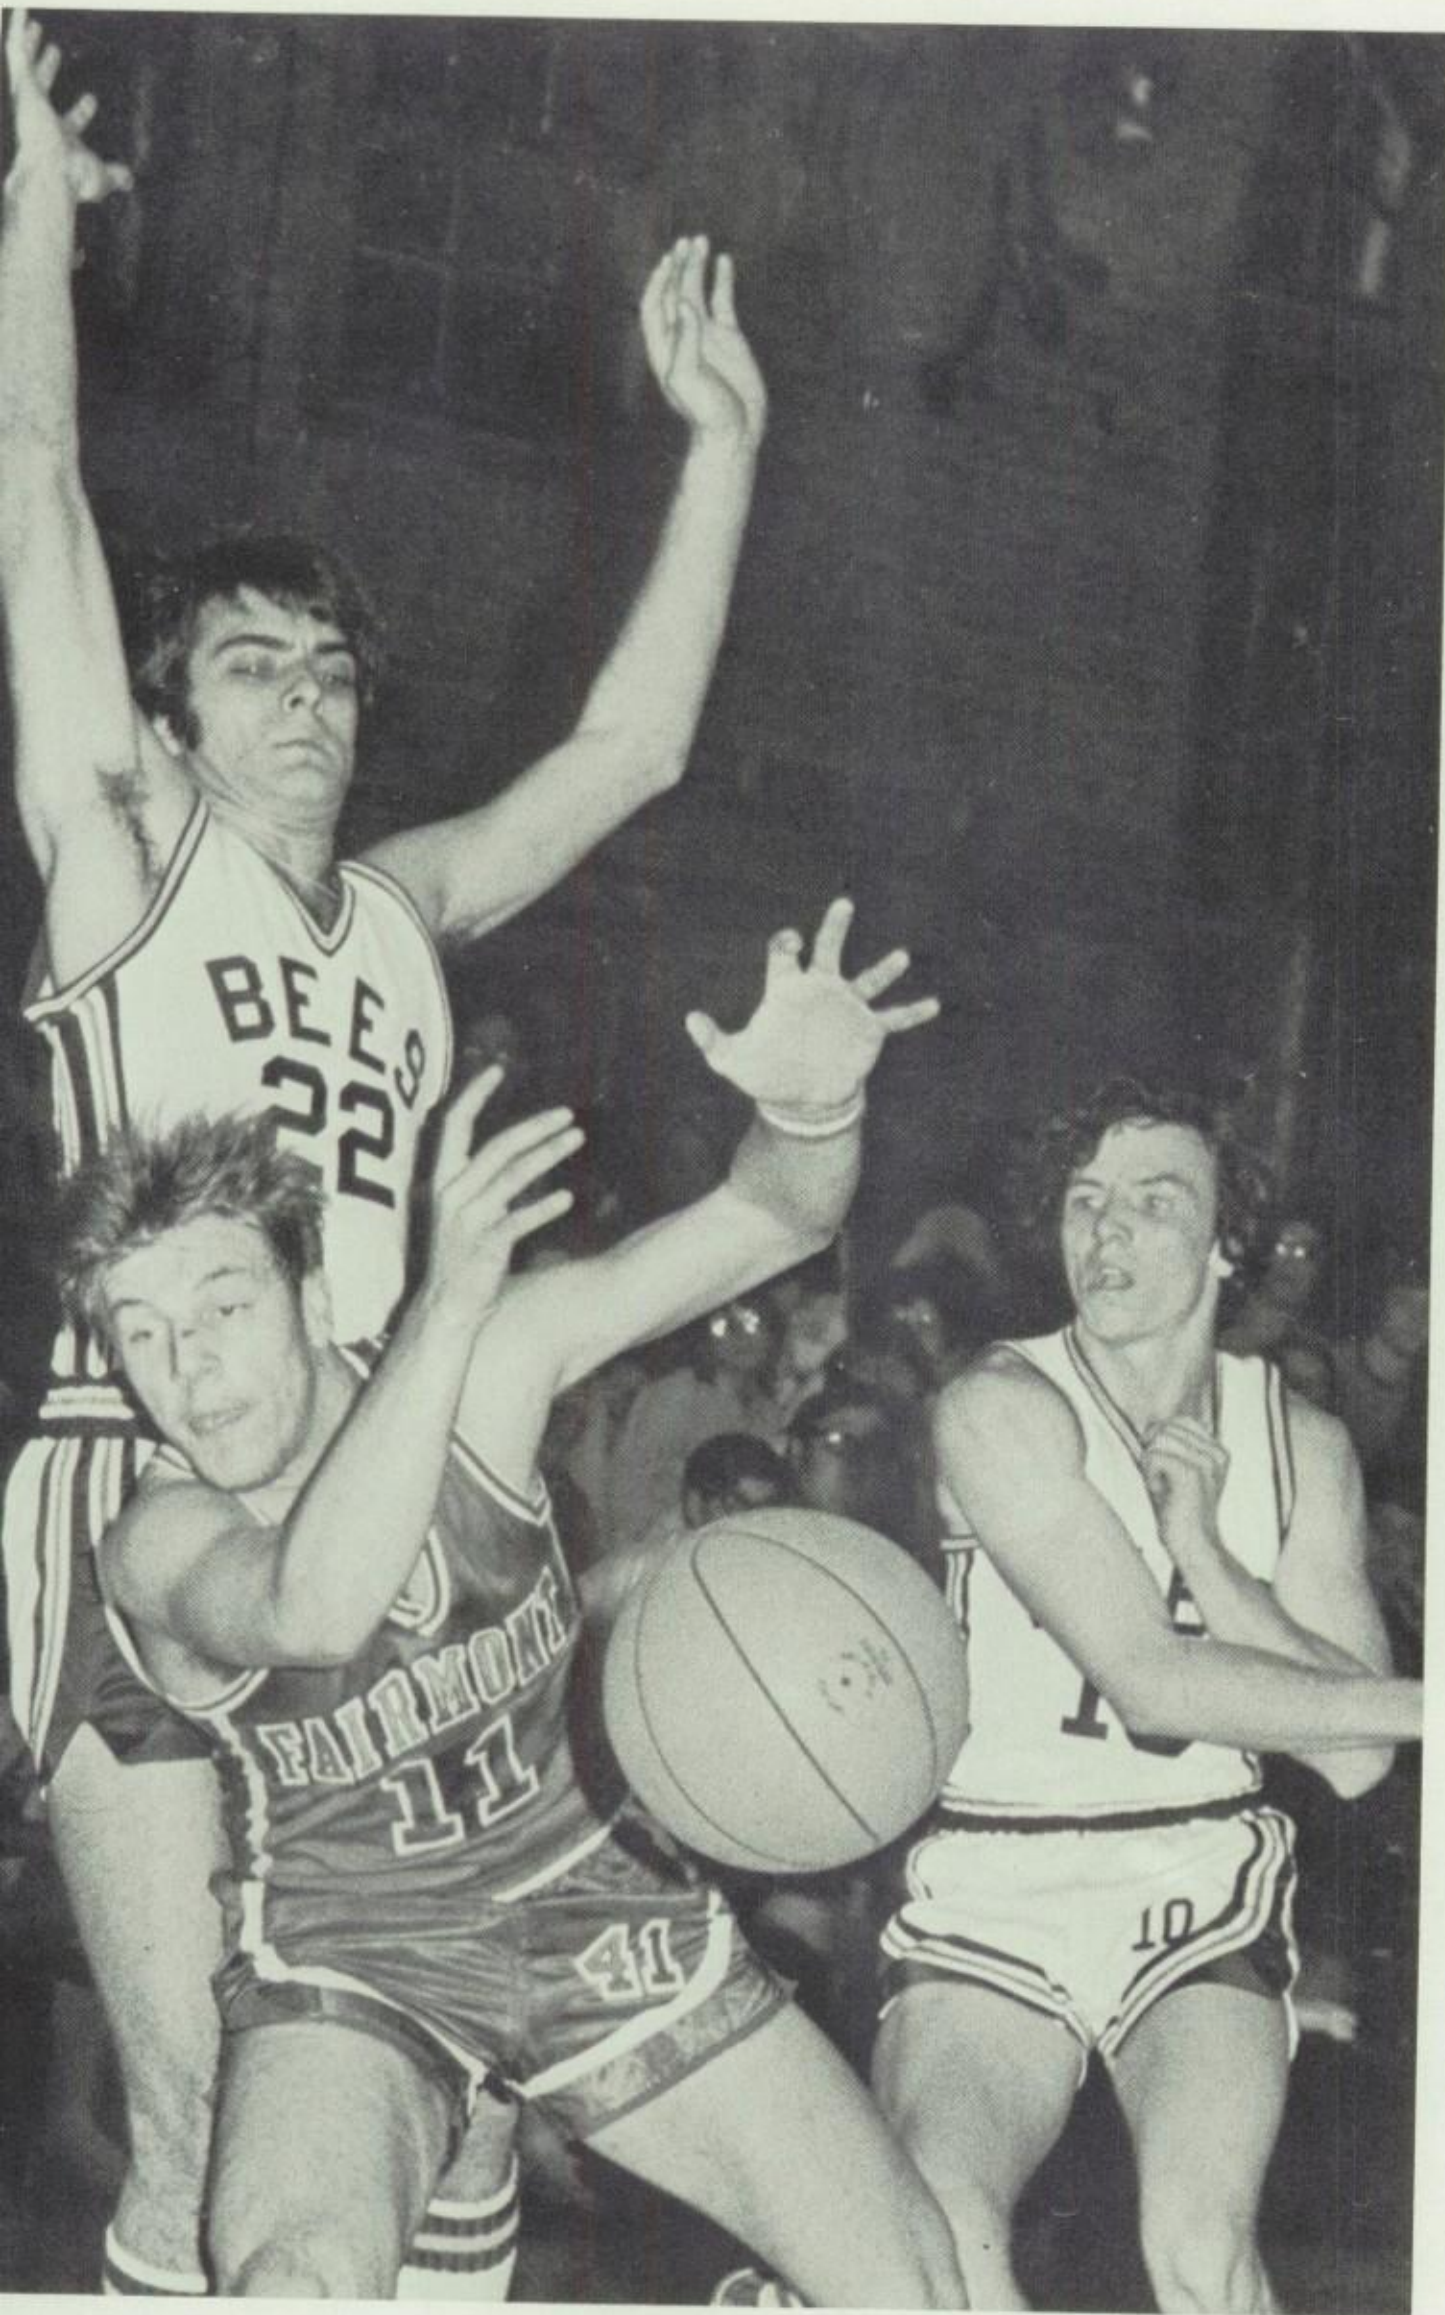

Managers assisting Jim Cale were senior Joe Saporito and junior Joey Carpenter.

Seniors taking their last dribbles were Pat Costello, Steve Denham, R. D. Morrison, Matt Sachetti, and Ed Shuck.

Cagers Post Exciting Wins

Playing a new opponent in the opening contest, the Big Bees ran Liberty High out of the gym. Senior Pat Costello led the scoring with 27 markers.

A cold streak followed as the Bees lost consecutive games to West Fairmont and Grafton. East then gave state-ranked Morgantown all they could handle but lost by a 2 point margin.

East then got it together with a victory over Phillip Barbour. Darrell Carpenter led the way with 16. The Bees then posted two thrilling victories on their home floor.

Pat Costello made a 3-point play with 20 seconds left to upend Lewis County.

Big Bees Buzz

Polar Bears

Matt Sachetti tallied 28 points while Steve Denham and Pat Costello sank some clutch free throws as the Bees ripped Grafton.

Using a run-and-gun offense, East soundly whipped Philip Barbour.

Sweet revenge was gained as the Calemen routed the West Polar Bears. Matt Sachetti poured in 27 and Ed Shuck had 25 points.

Junior center Darrell Carpenter led scoring for the year. Senior forwards Steve Denham and Matt Sachetti provided consistent rebounding. Senior guard Pat Costello contributed a lot of scoring and some fine floor playing. R. D. Morrison and Ed Shuck led the fast break and played tenacious defense.

Fourteen Join Frosh Team

Once again Coach Lenoard Bonfantino has turned his fighting freshmen into a seasoned veteran team. The frosh proved to have a strong defense which has stood up with any of teams Bonfantino's chargers have faced. Mark Perrella and Jay Ford lead the defense which Bonfantino stresses his team to work toward.

Controlling the boards for the frosh are Harley Riddle and Marc Cervo. Cervo and Riddle get the fast break started for the frosh.

Offensive standouts were Marc Cervo, Mark Perrella, Tim Potesta. Dino Trotto and Sam Guido have proven tough as they serve in reserve roles.

J.V. Team Largest Ever

Joe Ross's junior varsity cagers made up the largest team of Jayvees in East Fairmont history. The eighteen players this season consist of tenth and eleventh graders.

Team leaders were juniors Craig Steele and Mike Carunchia in guard positions and Kevin VanGilder and teammate Bruce Walker filling forward positions.

Sophomore Mike Sacchetti, Dave Vincent, Dave Shelton, Rob Channell and Kenny Bissett make up the backbone of first year junior varsity cagers. Junior Varsity basketball games were played before varsity encounters at six o'clock in East gym.

Sophomore players see Varsity action during the seasons conclusion.

East Harriers Revive Sport

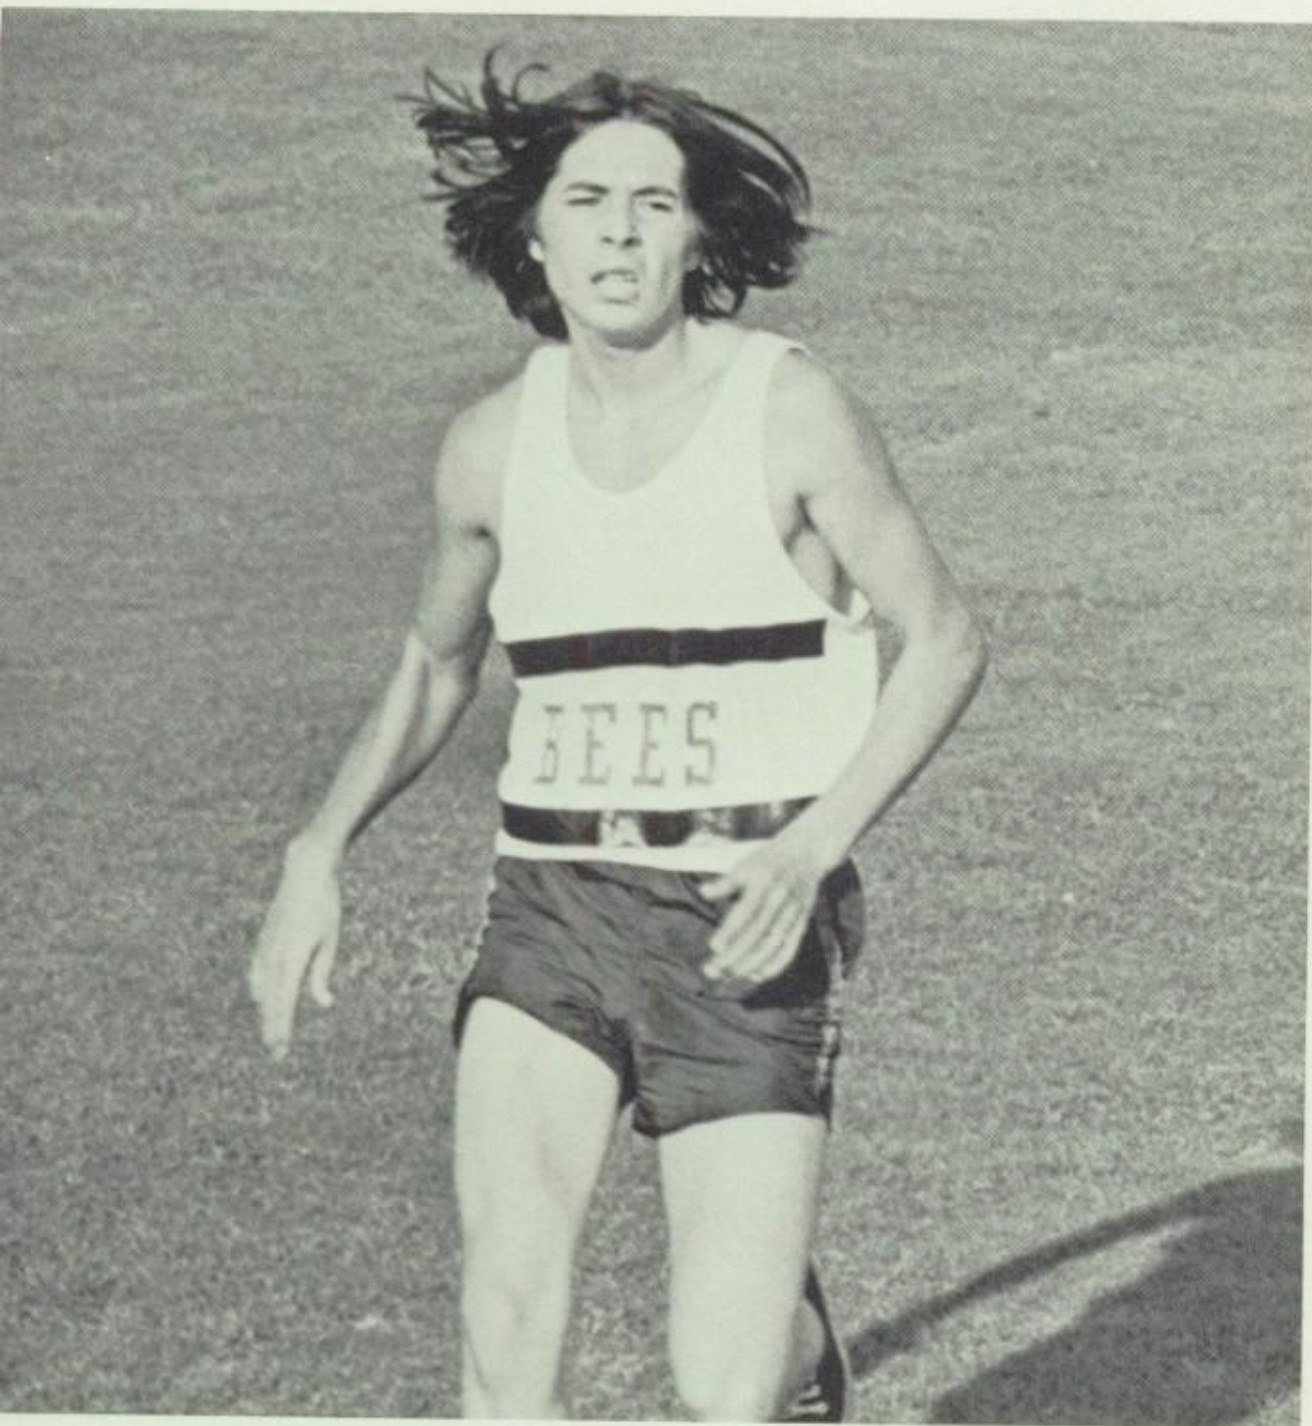

East's cross country team regained its life once again as the team began training two weeks before their first meet. Out of six meets, the Bee Harriers never came in last and often placed in the top three teams.

Coach Bill Malone's harriers ran ten miles a day to prepare for the 2.5 track which they ran on during the season.

The Bees held their home meets at Apple Valley Golf Course.

Fairmont Senior, Morgantown and Liberty were some teams that ran against East. No one qualified in the regionals as East closed its season with a .500 record.

Members of the 1973 golf team proved to opponents that it will be tough for years to come. The team consists of three juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman.

Opening against University, the Big Bee duffers rolled up a 14 stroke victory, with sophomore Ricky Boyles' 46 leading the way.

Morgantown invaded Apple Valley and dealt the Bees a 10 stroke loss. Ned Hale and Mike DeVault sparkled with 45's.

In achieving their 5-5-1 record, the Calemen finished their season by splitting two contests with Bridgeport, received forfeits from St. Francis and Notre Dame, and upset heavily favored West Fairmont by two strokes. It was East's first victory over West in fifteen years.

'Gymnastics '73' Chosen Theme

Beginning with intramurals finals, the fourth annual gym show "Gymnastics '73 a Universal Language" was held on May 5, 1973 in the East gymnasium.

At 8 p.m. the show carried out its theme with acts of yesterday, today, and tomorrow. Five floor exercises were individually made up and one exercise was performed behind a white sheet forming a shadow act. Individual routines were a modern interpretative dance, and acts on the balance beam, trampoline, and uneven bars. Group acts included the vaulting box, a ladder routine, couples doing the jitter bug, and a routine with flashlights to "Space Odyssey."

The highlight of the evening was the Living Statues saluting all prisoners of war and returning Vietnamese veterans.

13 Tracksters Enter Tourney

Despite the competition in the Times Invitational Relay the Bees finished fifth among twenty-nine schools.

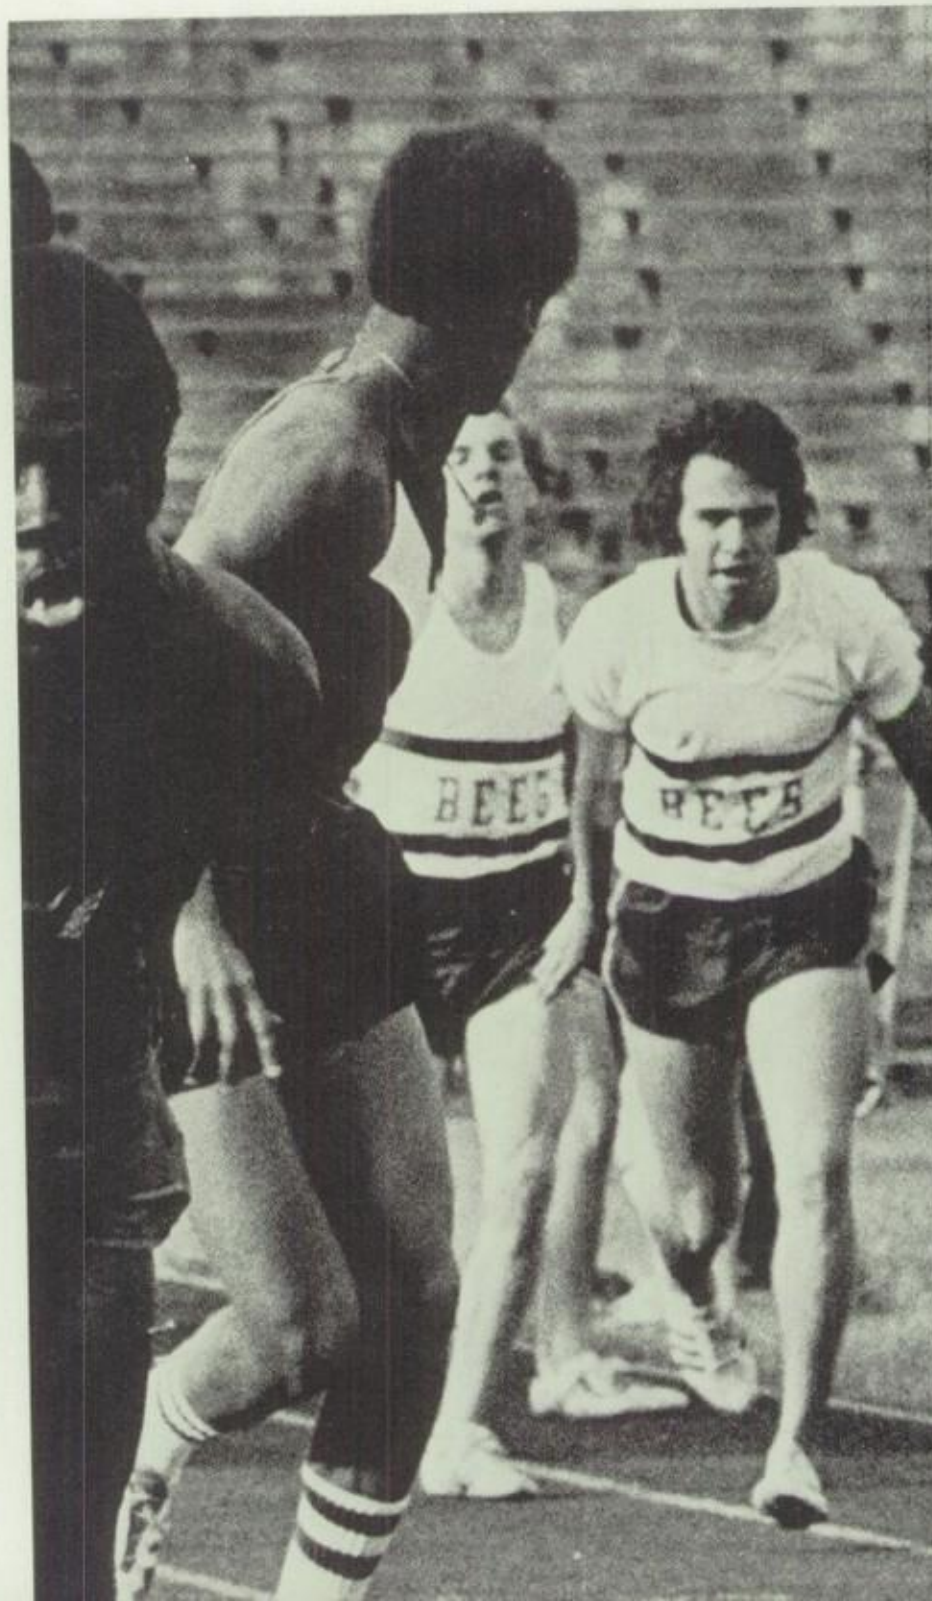

Traveling to Morgantown for the Morgantown Invitational the Cinder-men placed a strong fourth place.

Bees placed second in the Regional Meet behind the strong performance of Elkins. Dave Bilotta, Brent Burton, Jim Gore, and Charlie DeVault set a new school record in the mile relay of 3:31.8 previous to 3:34.8.

Tracksters qualifying for the State Tourney were Darrell Carpenter, Brent Burton, Jim Gore, Ronnie Van-Gilder, Mike Linn, Charlie DeVault, Vic Seccuro, Dwayne Malone, Dave Bilotta and Dave Closson.

East's two mile relay team placed seventh in State recognition.

Machine Helps Big Bee Hitting

Hitting was the big factor for the 1973 Big Bee Baseball team as the addition of a pitching machine improved their skills.

Tom Grabb led all stickers with an amazing .513 average. Mark Securo, John Kuroski, and Jim Wright also contributed much to the attack.

The diamondmen finished with a season 5-9 mark. East defeated Rivesville and Monongah in sectional tournament play, but were downed by West Fairmont in the finals.

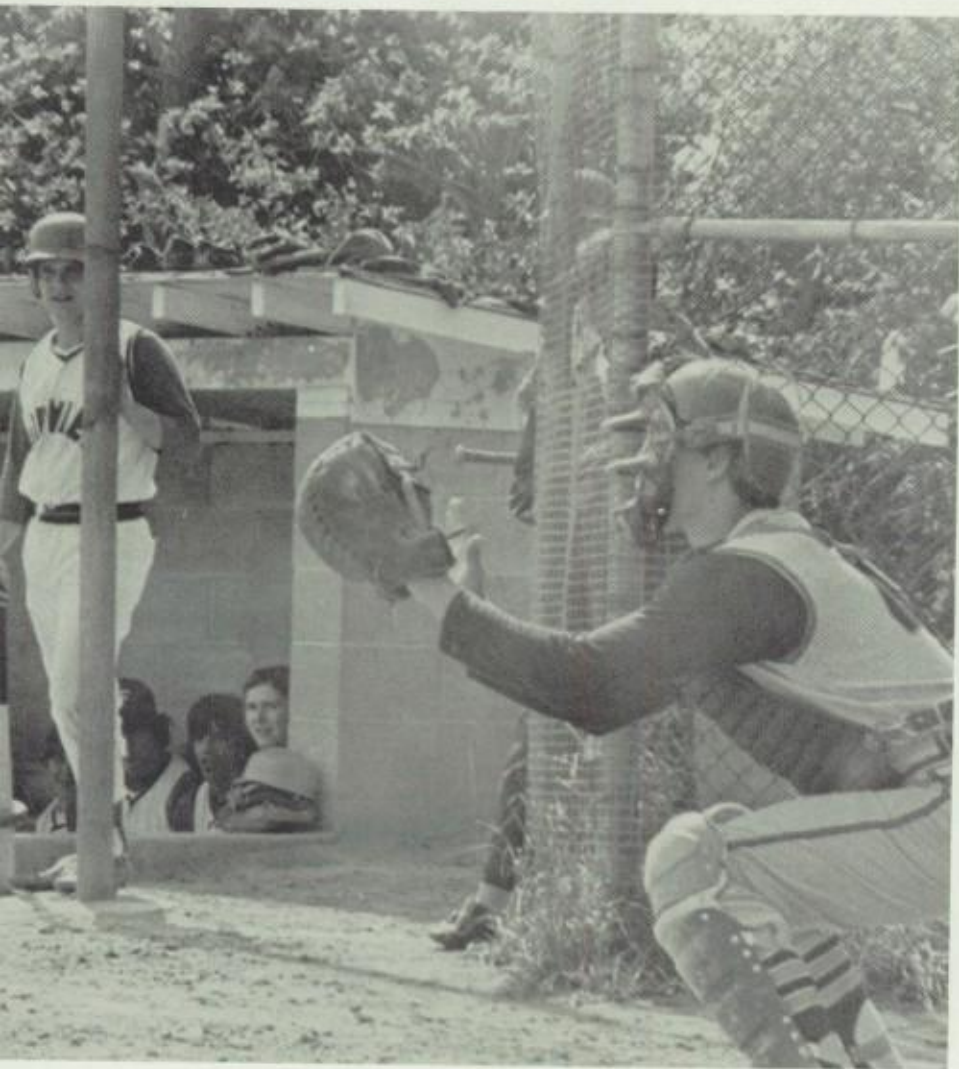

Young players improved and gained experience as the season went on. Showing a lot of future potential were: Sam Farrah, Bob Bragg, John Bartolf, and Matt DeVito.

Owning top pitching records were Jim Wright, Tom Grabb, Pat Costello and John Bartolf.

Players making post season teams were all Marion County Tom Grabb, Mark Securo, and John Kuroski; All-State and Big Ten Honors were awarded to Tom Grabb.

Team Captures County Classic

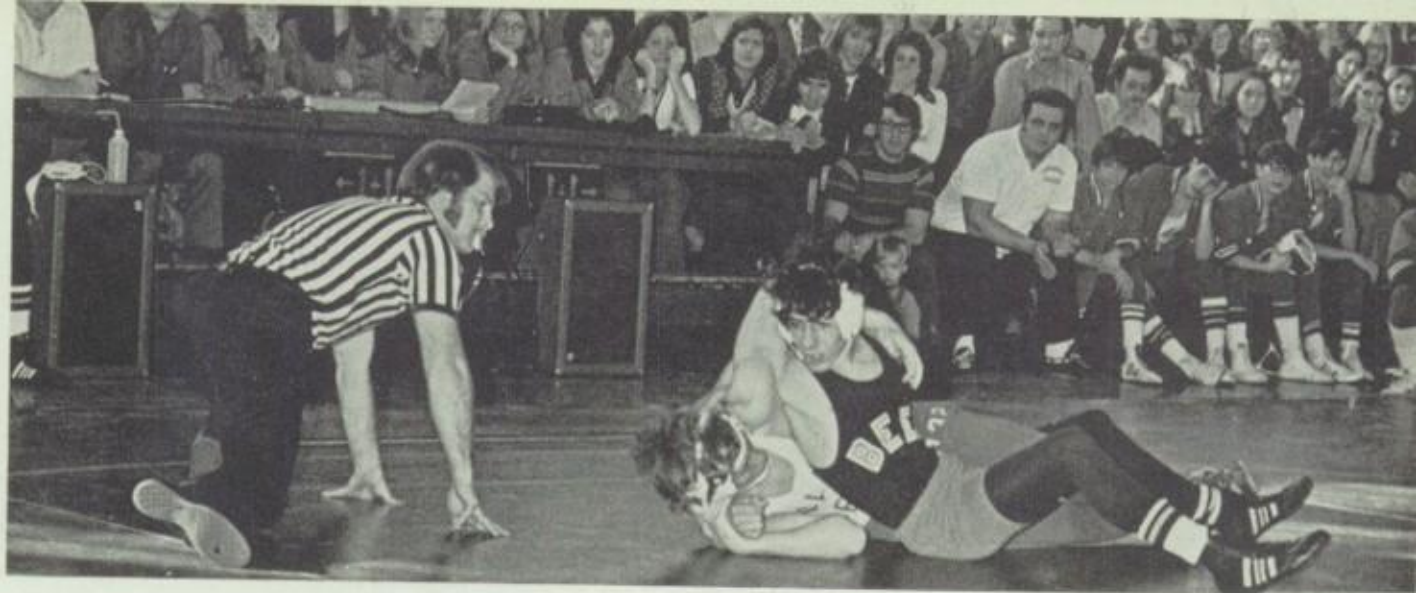

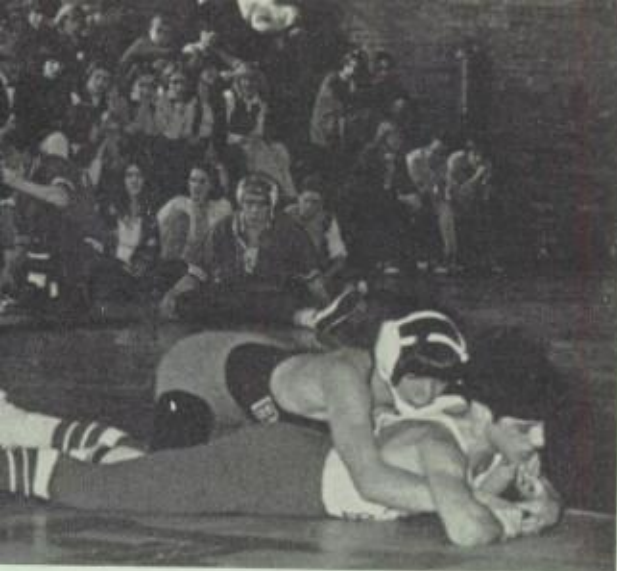

With eight seniors participating in the 12 weight classes, East Fairmont's wrestling team gained the esteem of being the best in the area. With only a loss to a strong Parkersburg squad, the Bees compiled a 13-1 dual match record. East dominated the Marion County Tournament while placing third in the Brooke Invitational tourney.

With seniors Frank Willis 105, Jack Flint 112, Mike Smith 119, Bob McGee 126, Danny Perrella 132, John Slaughter 138, Ron VanGilder 145 and Mike McDonough unlimited, the powerful grapplers supported one of the most experienced teams around.

Four of the wrestlers have been on the team since its inauguration in 1969-70.

Gym Becomes Noon Attraction

Boy's gym set the scene for Intramurals, which were the lunch hour sport events participated in each day by boys interested in football, basketball, volleyball and wrestling. Added sounds to the gym, where many students congregate to eat or watch, was popular music played over the public address system.

Paletine Packers, Maffia Trucking, Key Club and Zones were football teams while Seniors, Meadowdale, Musketeers, P.A.P.H., All Stars, Kingmont, Greens, Sopies, Losing Streak and Micheal were the three man basketball squads.

In the girl's gym, girls participated in noon hour sports by playing football, basketball, volleyball, crab socker and practicing gymnastic skills.

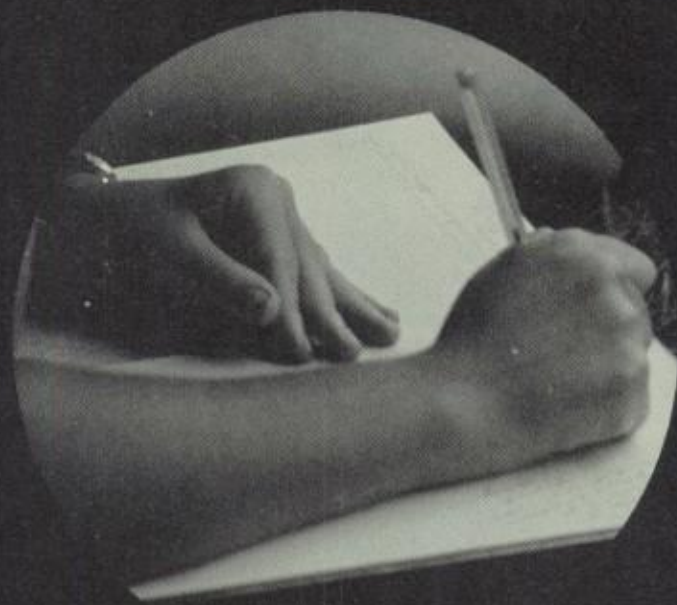

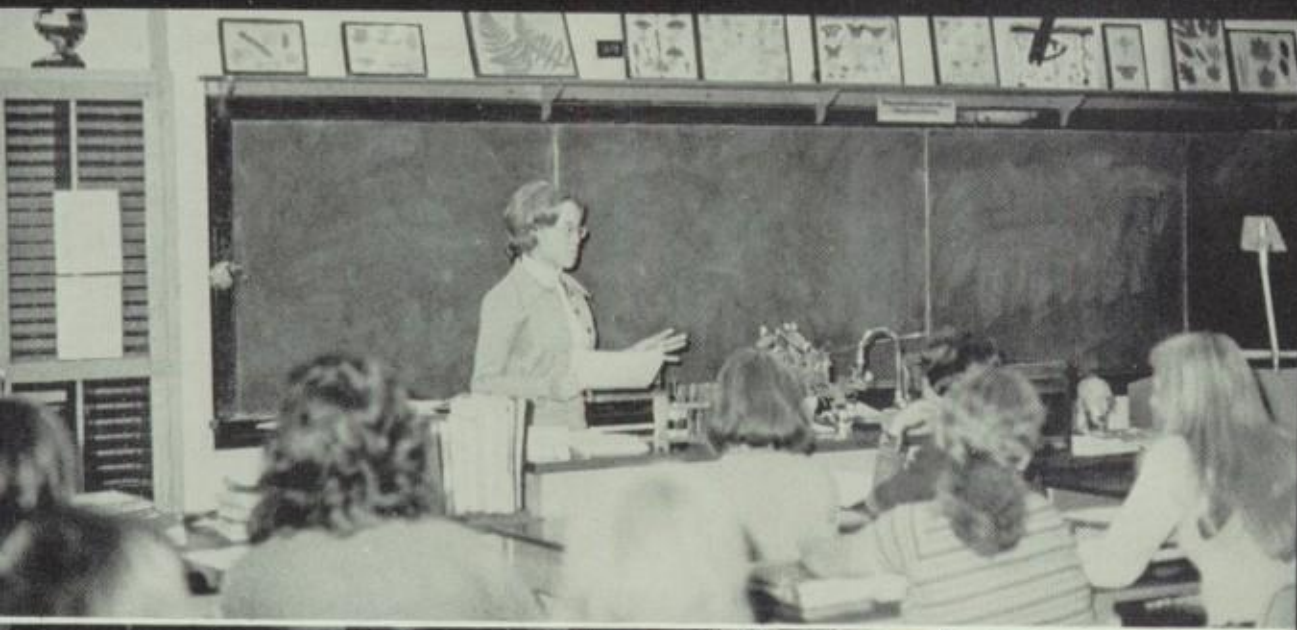

Five man basetball is played by Frank Martin, Steve Denham, and Ronnie VanGilder.

Advisors Offer Career Plans

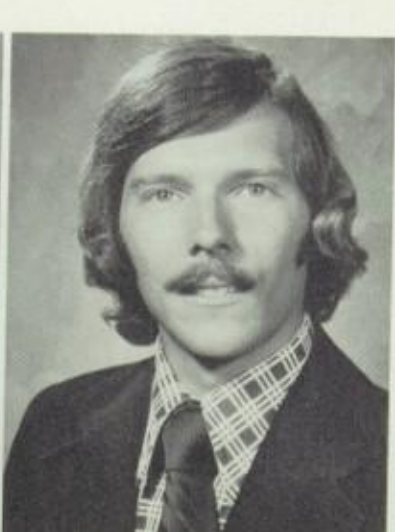

'What's Next Your Future,' a class about careers offered for a second year, symbolizes the effort of reaching out to East students to aid them on vocational plans directed by the advisory staff. Staff members include guidance counselors Mrs. Evelyn Black, Donald Boyles and Robery Schmidt.

Mrs. Esther Powers, librarian, is assisted by senior aid Thelma Cain. Maintaining the library, training student library assistants and offering aid to students and teachers include some of their duties.

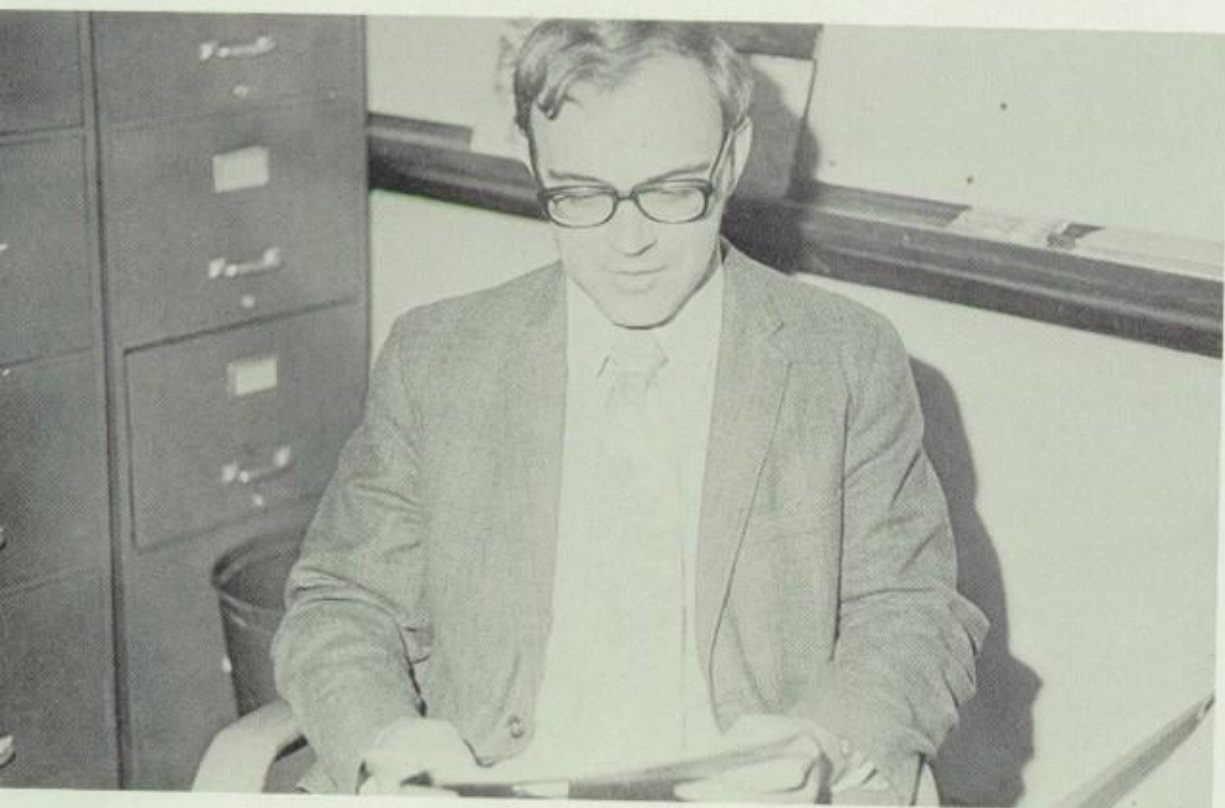

Mrs. Pauline Wright, clerk and accountant and Mrs. Pearl Watson, main office secretary, are familiar assistants to the student body.

New Teachers Increase Staff

With the addition of seven faculty members in the departments of language, math and science, the teaching staff increased to 53 members.

Teaching French and English is Mrs. Jennifer Beafore, formerly of Parkersburg, Speech and drama graduates of Fairmont State College are Mrs. Kathy Channell and Bill Malone. Mrs. Diane Furman and Kenneth Waddell both Fairmont State graduates teach biology and human physiology. From Bluefield, Glenville State College graduate, Mrs. Hannah Hardway teaches Algebra and geometry. From the University of Delaware is Spanish instructor Mrs. Lynn Muhvich.

Spanish and guitar, taught by Miss Nancy Valentine are the new classes added to the curriculum.

Janitorial Staff Serves School

Serving East students, the custodians and cooks maintain building upkeep, cook cafeteria lunches, perform minor repair duties and check heating equipment. Winfield Meredith, new custodian heads the maintenance staff.

Working evenings are Reka Martin, Viola Horton, Lorraine Tetrick, Clanatha Wilkinson, Betty Knight and Mary Toothman.

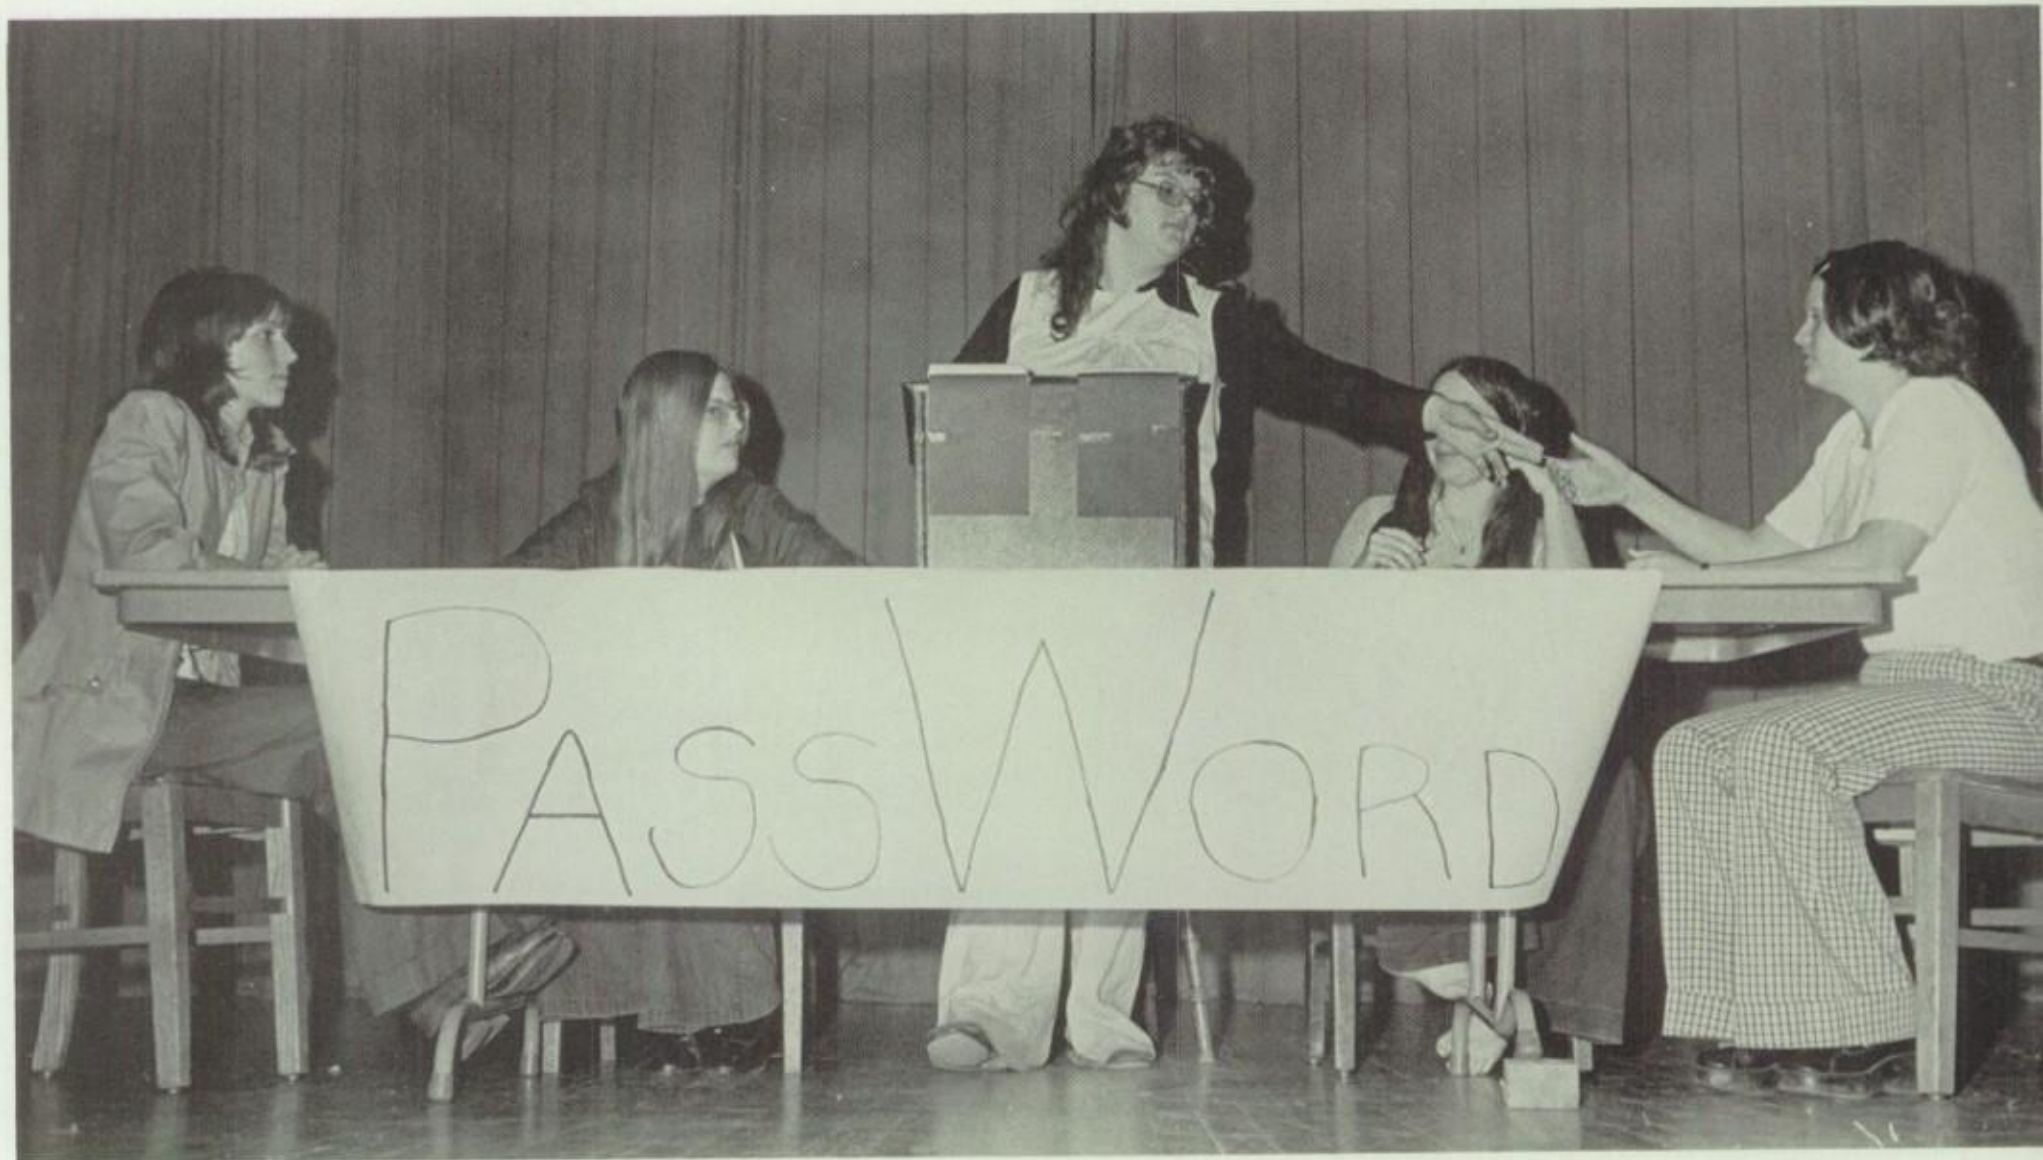

Ann Retton, Gerrie Summers and Rose Warash serve as the cooks who fulfill the daily duty of preparing lunches for East faculty and students. Also responsibilities of the cooks are the preparation of refreshments and dinners requested for banquets and receptions.

Phases Study Modern Style

During the fourth year of phased English, students studied contemporary literature. For the first time during the four year program, students were graded according to work within their individual phase rather than by receiving points for various phases.

Speech and drama classes studied and performed modern plays. Novel, non-fiction, short story and poetry classes touched on the works of contemporary style.

Freshmen studied basic English under Frank DiMaria and Mrs. Virginia Seccuro.

Seniors, for the first time, were offered an English course, 108, from Fairmont State College. The classes were taught at East Fairmont three days a week for one semester.

Students Study Bugging Case

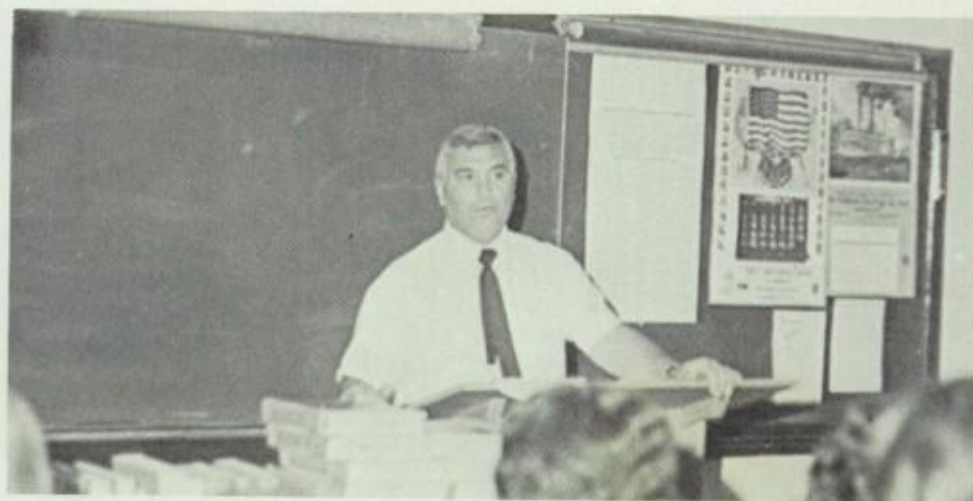

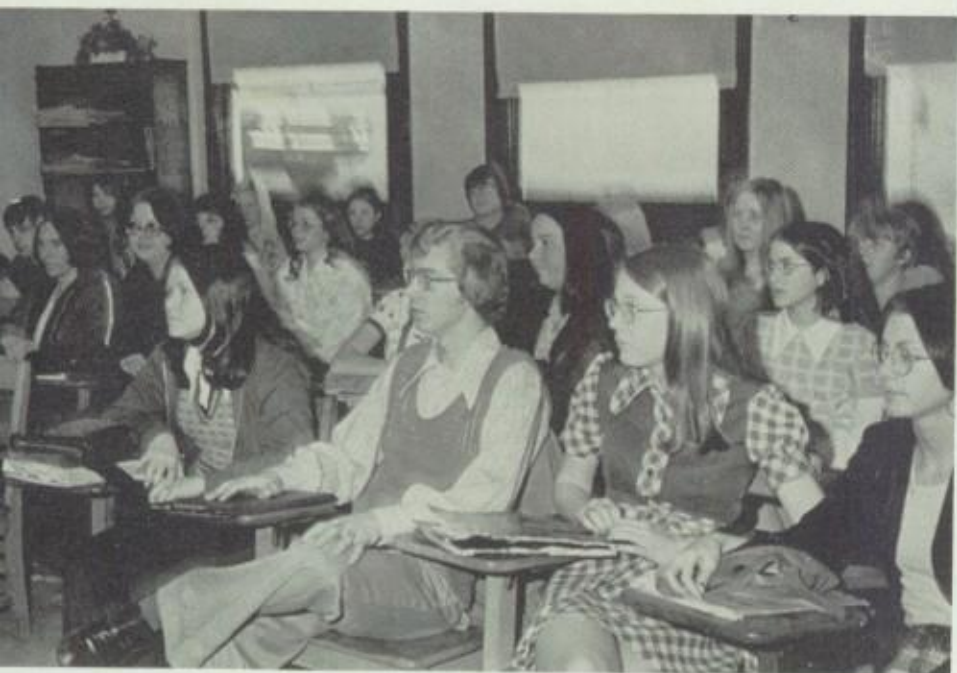

Watergate trials, the resignation of Vice-President Agnew, gas rationing, and domestic shortages were some current topics which American Studies I, American Studies II, and Problems of Democracy classes studied in depth. World power classes were involved in making food, instruments, tools and costumes similar to those of Africans as the students studied the continent.

This year completed the three year cycle of phased social studies. Extra credit for higher phases was not obtained as had been previously. Under the phased system students chose one of four levels of study. Problems of Democracy classes were in action during third and fifth periods.

Classes Prove, Analyze, Deduct

Added to the mathematics department is Mrs. Windel Hardway. Teaching algebra and geometry, the classes adopt new procedures of math including the calculator.

Mrs. Ruth Philips, department head, teaches trigonometry and math analysis. Dominick Muto, Mrs. Linda Swihart, Mrs. Nancy Wood, Mrs. Paula Vilone and James Cale instruct classes on general mathematics, pre-algebra, Algebra I, II, and geometry.

Required two years of math credit, students are counceled by advisors and math teachers as to what phase of math one should elect.

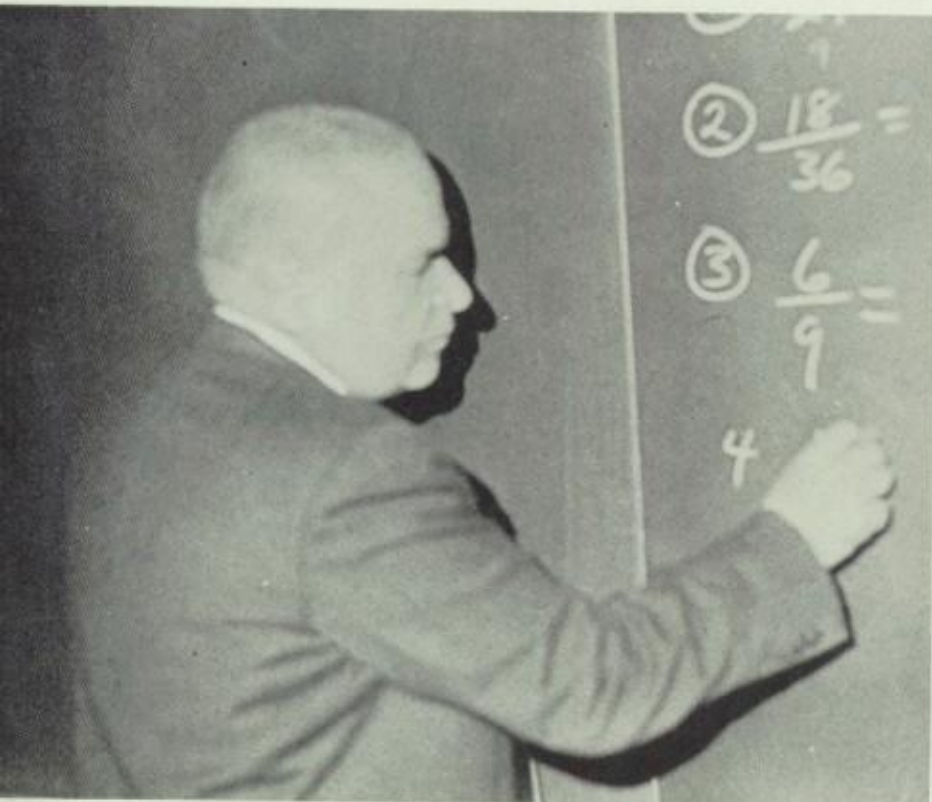

Advanced students attended beginning college math courses at Fairmont State College.

Students Study Energy Crisis

Current fuel shortages were studied by science students as the nation adjusted to the conservational methods necessary during the crisis.

Required to study biology, students also must acquire one other course to graduate. Electives include general sciences, human physiology, physics and chemistry.

Teaching science classes for the first year were Kenneth Waddell and Mrs. Diane Furman.

Added to the usual dissection experiments, were sharks which biology students studied. Human physiology students visited Fairmont General Hospital. Individual projects, term papers, flower, leaf and insect collections and experiments were required of students. Current ecology movements were also observed by students.

Staff Follows Style Changes

Mosaic pattern was the layout style chosen by the yearbook editor, Stephanie Satterfield. Twelve juniors and seniors served on the staff, meeting four deadlines between October 1 and February 15.

'There's got to be a morning after,' the book's theme, was portrayed throughout the sections symbolizing how each aspect of high school life adds to one's future.

Unique cover design, added effects to the introduction and dividers and a re-designed ad section marked some of the changes in this year's book. Other than working during second and third period lab hours, staffers met at noon, during free periods and after school to meet deadlines.

Pat Carpenter Edits Paper

With the goal of matching the 1973 medalist rating performance, staff members of the Yellow Jacket work hard to meet bi-weekly deadlines for the paper which is distributed twice a month.

Meeting during the second and third period labs staff members compile accounts on school, local, and national events as well as feature stories and sports coverage.

Girls Learn Football Skills

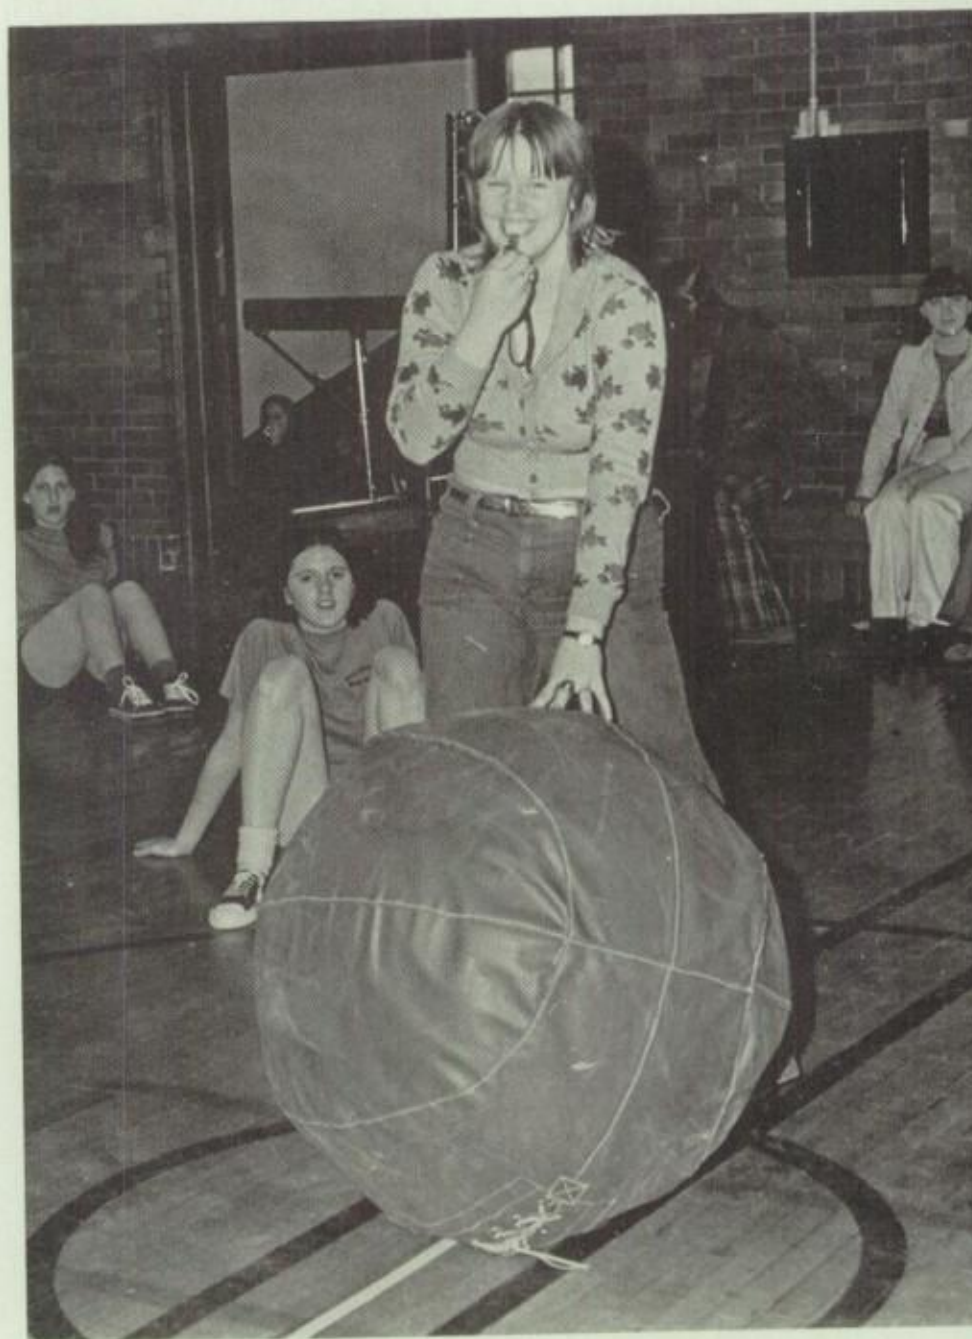

Added to the slate of girls' physical education activities was football which classes studied and played in the fall. Field hockey, soft ball, basketball, ring tennis and basic health and exercise were also taught. The gym suits changed to a uniform gold tee shirt with blue shorts.

Boys' physical education classes were involved in gymnastics, volleyball, basketball, wrestling, touch football and general exercise.

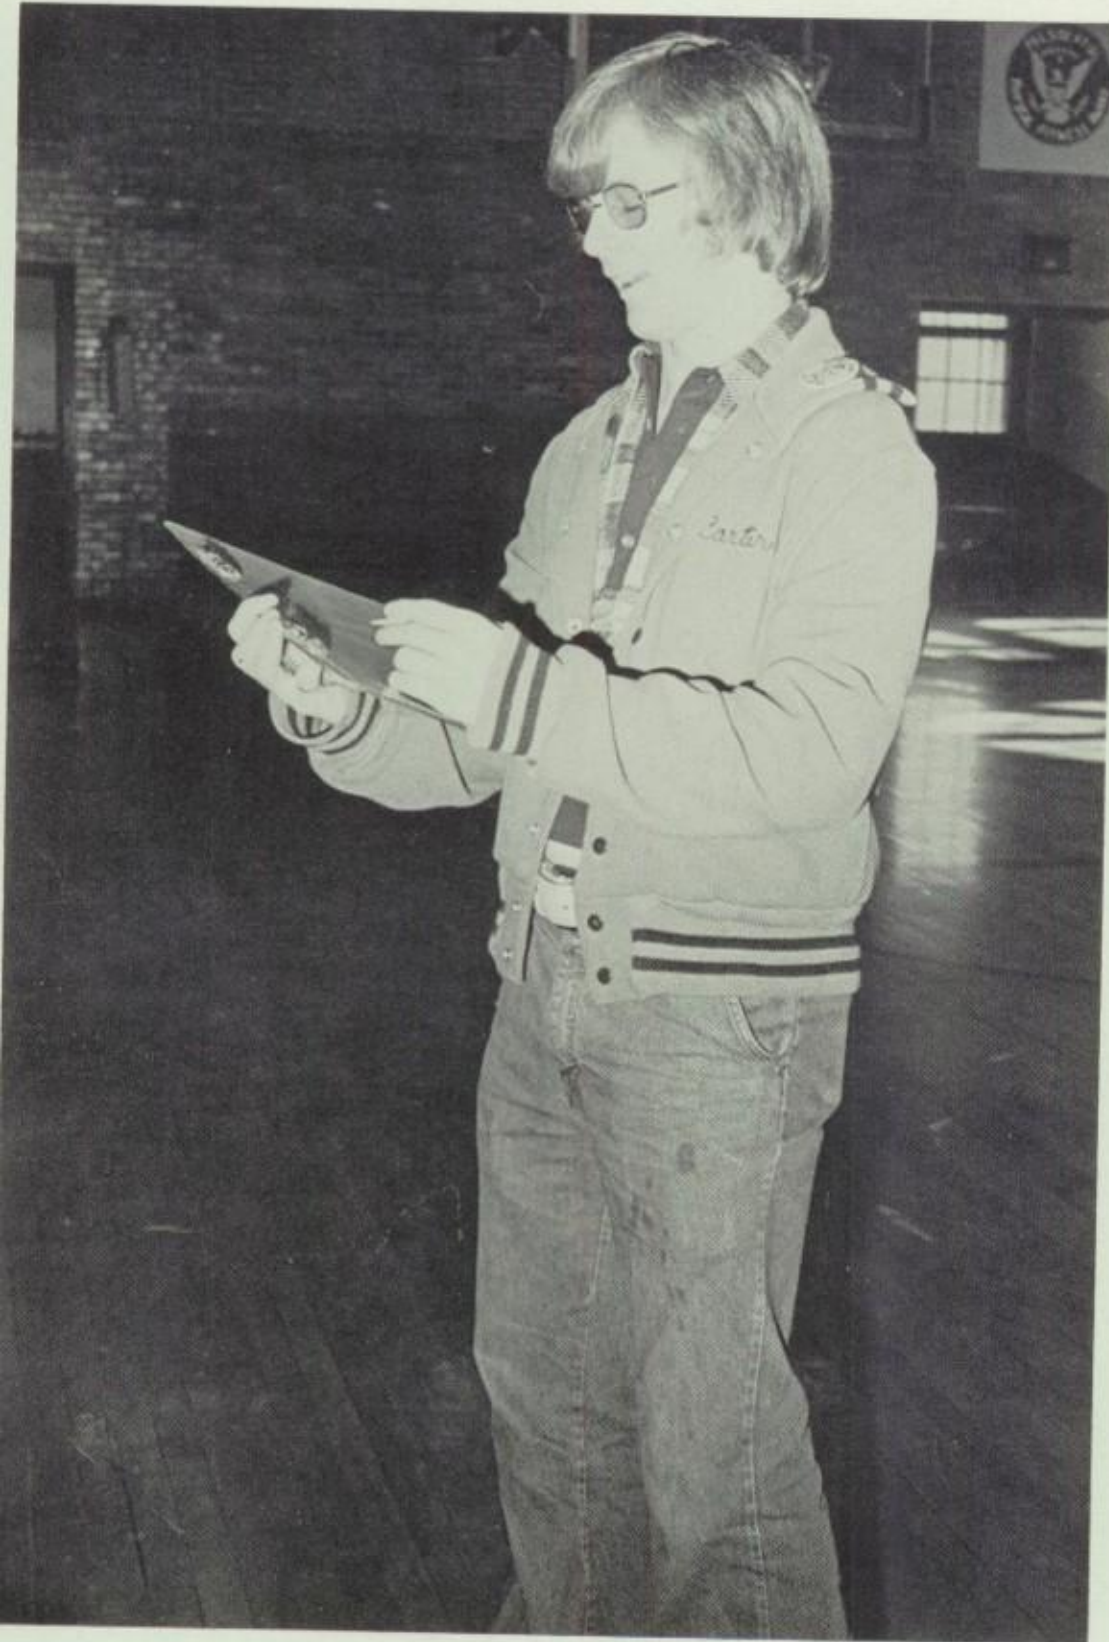

Instructors, Mrs. Leah Martin, James Cale and Robert Brookover, were aided by student gym assistants. All students are required one year of physical education for graduation. John Slaughter and Kevin Carter served as gym assistants.

Students Learn Technical Skills

Drafting, woodworking, machine shop and graphic arts compose the school's industrial arts department.

Students enrolled in drafting are taught basic skills used in making and reading engineering drawings such as sections, auxiliary views, perspectives and architectural drawings.

Printing basics are taught in graphic arts by Charles Peteshel. The students often assist school organizations with printing of small jobs such as tickets, posters and signs.

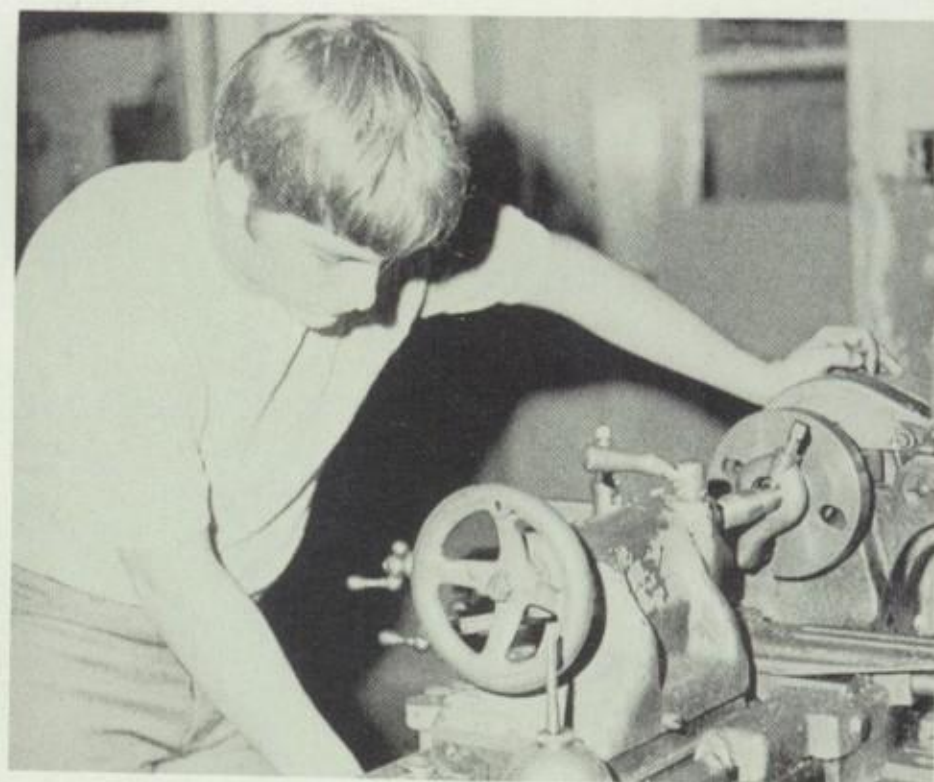

Glenn Vincent instructs students in wood shop in hand and machine tool operations along with experiences in crafts such as leather and enameling.

Ed Prunty teaches work with heavy machinery in machine shop.

Two Teachers Offer French

Combining the efforts of two teachers, Mrs. Lynn Muhvich and Mrs. Ginny Beafore taught French I, II, and III classes.

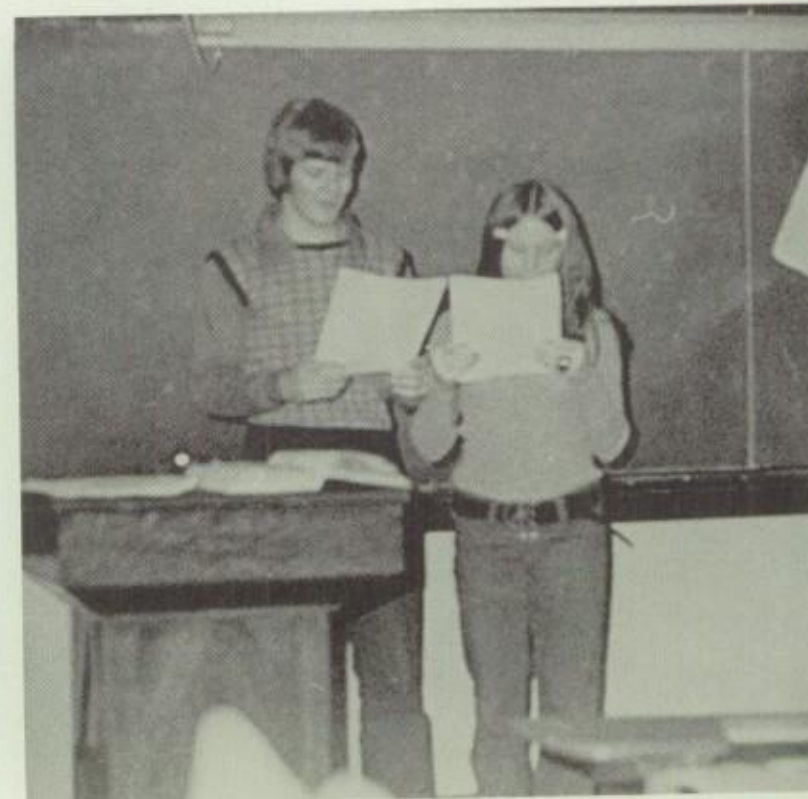

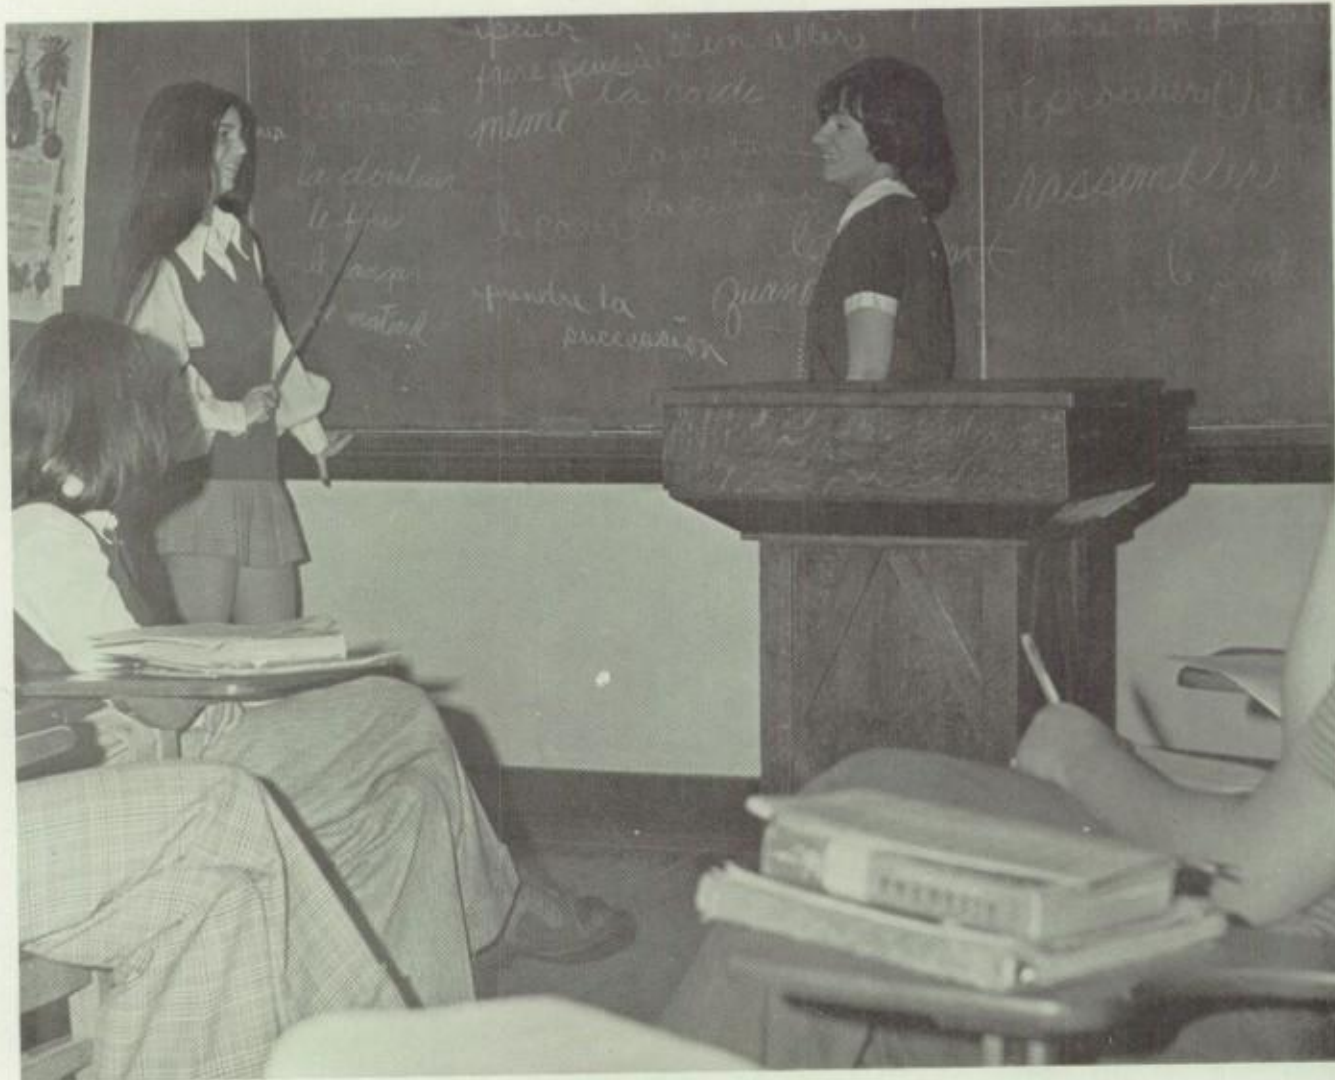

Mrs. Ginny Beafore's French III class read 'Le Petit Prince' and presented skits to represent chapters in the book.

The other classes conjugated verbs and learned sentence structures. Also they learned numbers and the days of the week.

Many of the French étudiants had pen pals with many corresponding in français.

During the Christmas holidays French Christmas carols were sung throughout the halls by the French classes.

Through the Easter break some French students toured through Canada.

Spanish Class Offered at East

'Buenos Dias!' That's Good Morning in Spanish.

Desiring to learn a new language many students were enrolled in Spanish I classes taught by Mrs. Lynn Muhvich.

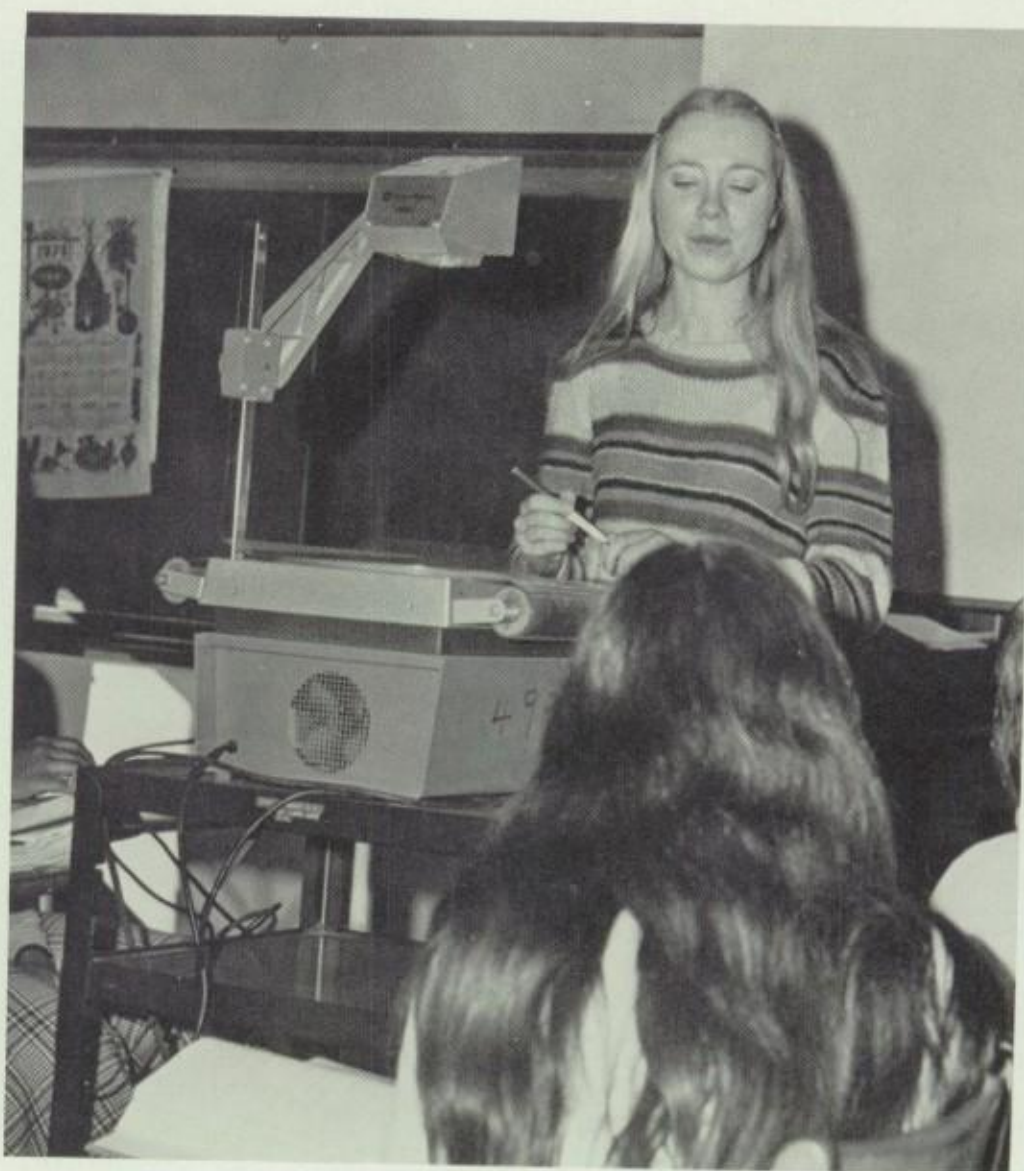

The students sang Christmas carols in class. A favorite was 'Rudolf de nariz roja.' They also read Spanish stories and presented pantomimes to learn the parts of the body.

To obtain extra points in the class, games were held as Bingo.

Many of the students obtained Spanish pen pals from places such as Mexico and Puerto Rico.

During the year, the students learned a number of verb conjugations, sentence structure and dialogues.

Students Elect Sewing, Foods

Boys, as well as girls, participated in Foods I and II courses, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Hale. Desserts, meats and vegetables preparation were the main dishes experimented with during lab periods. Basic nutrition instruction, cooking tips and cooking processes were studied in Foods I, while Foods II classes researched these areas in depth.

Mrs. Mary Stonstreet taught basic cutting, fitting and sewing procedures. Fabric study, individual projects and assigned projects outlined the courses. Slacks, purses, skirts and jumpers were required projects.

Outside of actual participation in cooking and sewing, students were aided in their study by films, magazines and personal instruction.

Classes Study Motorcycles

Instructed by driver education teachers David Harper, Charles Peteshel and Robert Brookover, tenth, eleventh and twelfth graders were offered a semester course in driver education.

This year, a study of motorcycle safety and operation was taught to students electing the course.

Classes were tested for proper vision and reflex action before they studied rules, laws, operation, mechanical make up and general information concerning vehicles.

After completing the course, students may obtain adult licenses and reduction on their insurance bills.

Many Obtain Business Skills

Elected by East students are business courses including typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, general business and consumer economics, taught by instructors Mrs. Ginger Malone, James Migaiolo and Mrs. Helen Nuzum, students geared for business careers gain knowledge in banking, insurance, tax, credit, management, economics and stenography.

Semester courses are offered on personal typing skills while year long courses cover a variety of typing instruction.

Consumer economics familiarize students with the process of marketing. Bookkeeping courses stress financial management and present fundamentals about calculators. Note taking, typing, speed, efficiency and translation are covered in shorthand courses.

Center Offers Job Training

Marion County Vocational Center provides forty-nine East Fairmont students with the opportunity to learn courses consisting of office occupation, auto mechanics, radio and television repair.

Electronics being a field where there is a growing need for skilled workers, many East Fairmont boys are enrolled in electrical classes. There are two different kinds of electronics taught. One is commercial electricity. The other is industrial. Commercial teaches a boy to wire on a small scale. Industrial teaches to wire larger jobs.

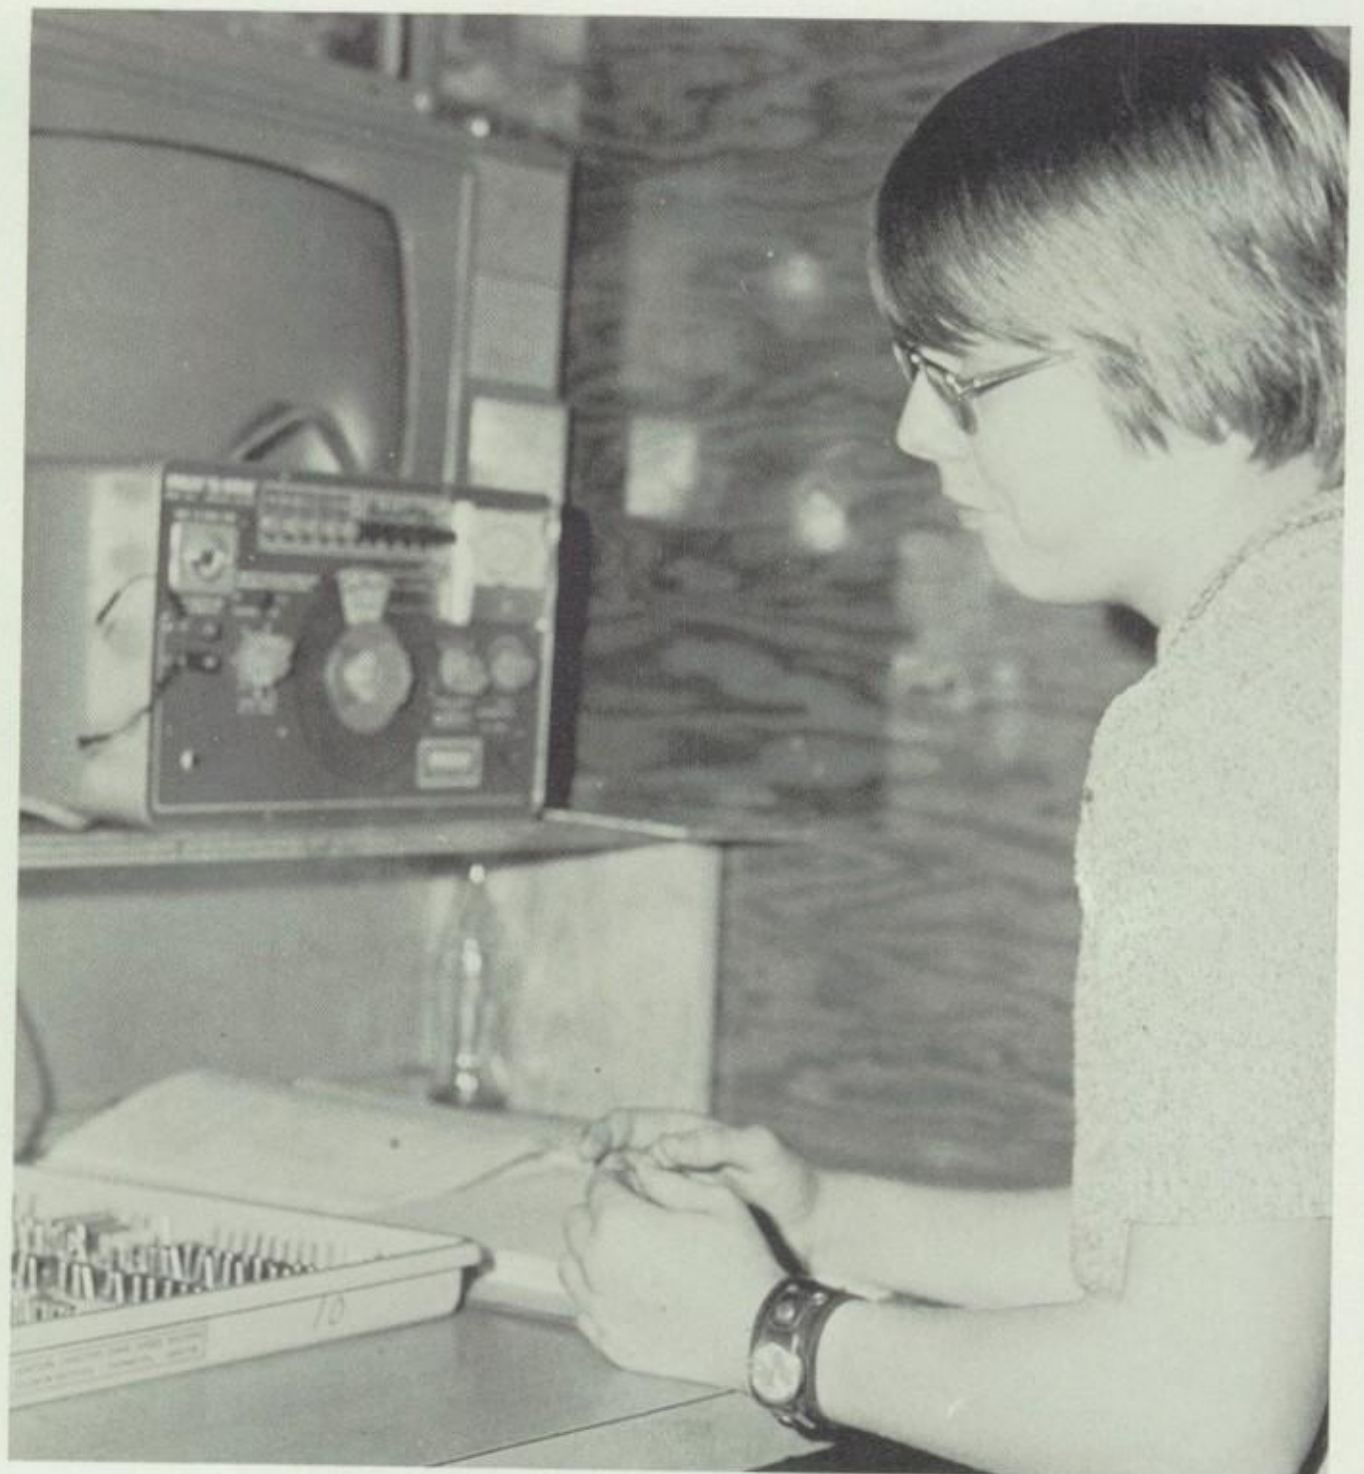

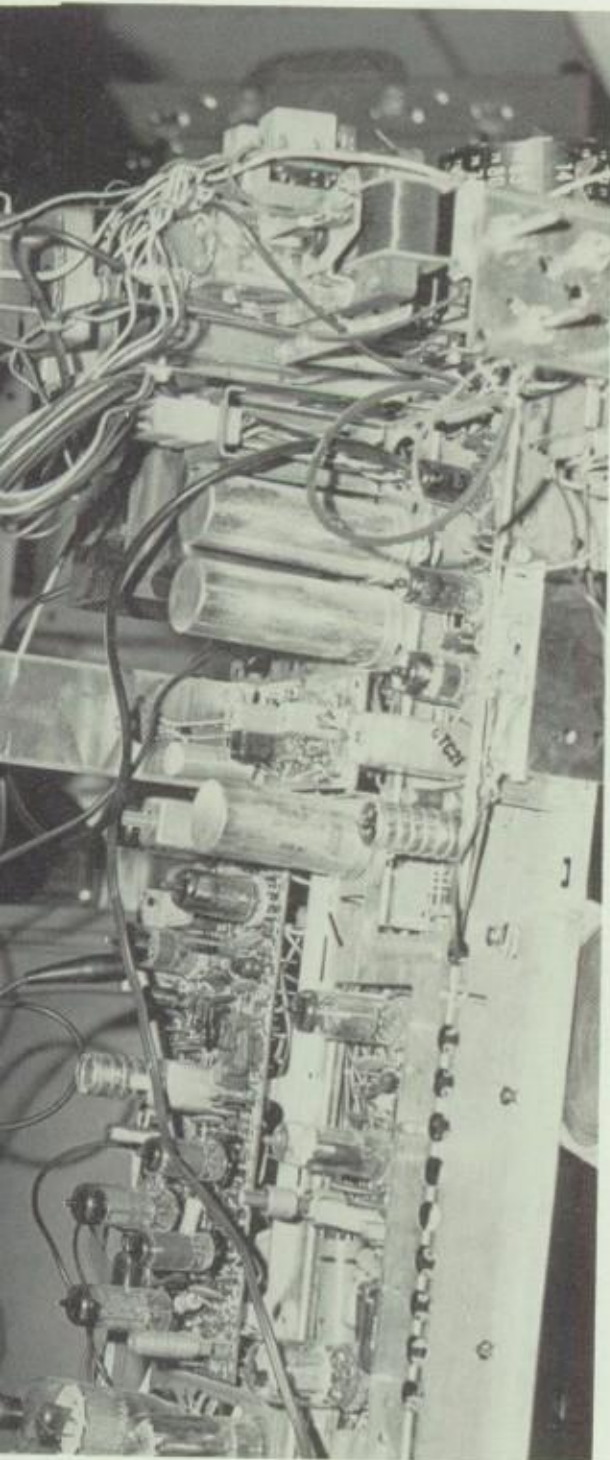

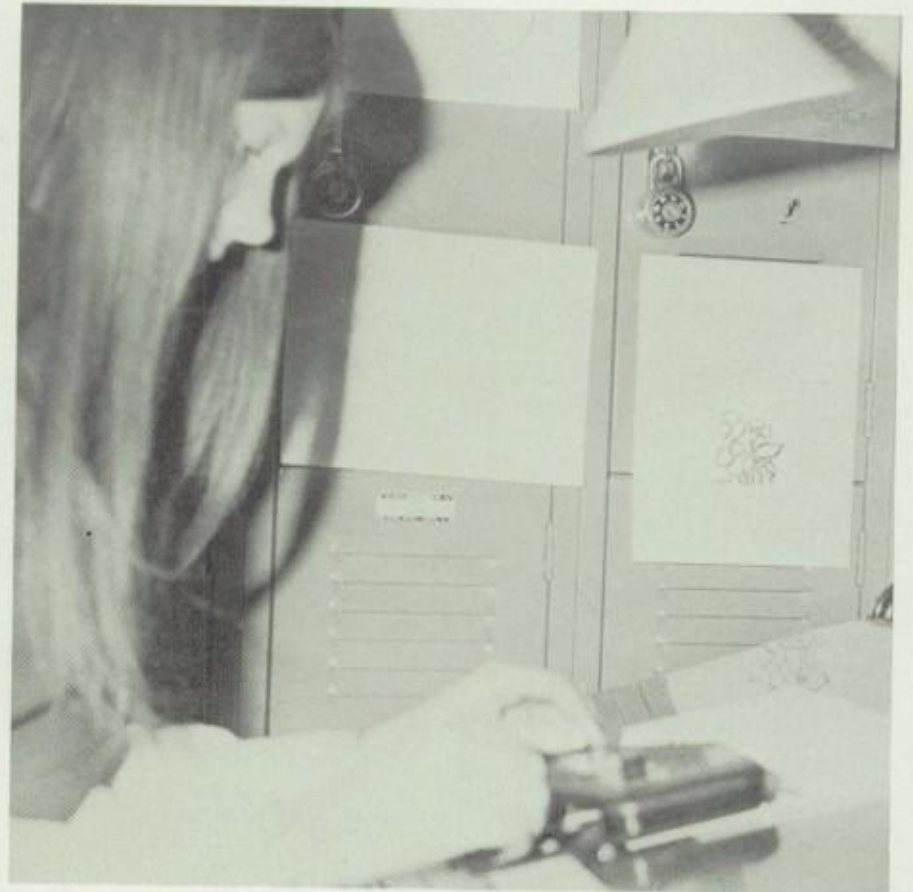

These five classes help students in their search for a job after they have graduated to advance their chances for college entry.

Clay Modeling Highlights Year

Sculpture, enameling and printing were among the major projects of Lundix Savereno's Art I, II and III classes. Students studied clay processing, copper enameling techniques and silk screen printing.

T-shirts and posters were painted as well as cards and napkins from the block cut method. Portraits, free motion sketches and realistic drawings were practiced in depth under student teachers, Eddie Channell, Tom Tshlares, and Miss Bonnie Faith.

Christmas projects this year included glass bulbs, bulletin boards, murals, cards, nylon net trees, wreaths and wheat paste angels.

Display at the Marion County Board of Education consists of original ceramic figures, sketches and watercolors.

Twenty Form Musical Group

Under the direction of Miss Nancy Valentine, the ensemble presented community and church musicals, holiday assemblies and appearances on WBOY, WDTV and WTAE. The latter television appearance was on the 'Talent Scene' program.

Choir members presented programs on WBOY, assemblies, county concerts and a special assembly, 'Godspell'.

All-State Choir participants were Connie Slusser, Allen Keener and John Morris.

Attired in flowered smocks and coordinated suits are choir members while the ensemble chose blue gowns, bow ties and shirts with navy vests and plaid pants.

East Receives Highest Rating

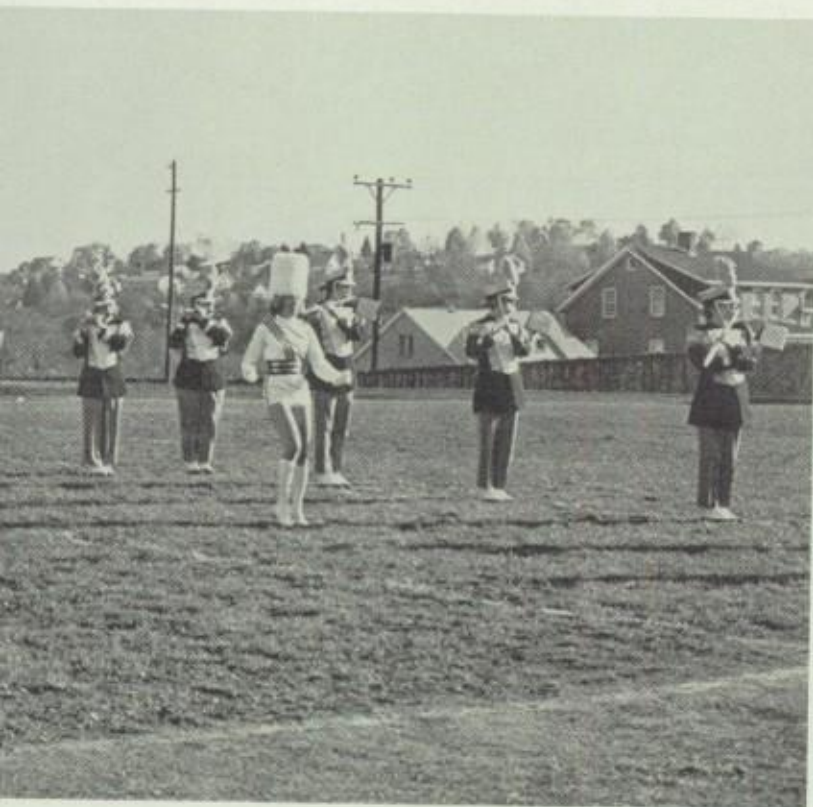

At the Huntington Tri-State Band Festival, the Busy Bee Band of East Fairmont, received first place honors and the Grand Band trophy. This is the second year in which East was given highest honors.

Other activities of the band included half-time shows, tag day, gas-o-rama, parades, Majorette Melee, Morgantown Band Spectacular, Fairmont Senior Band Spectacular, Bethal Park Band Spectacular, WVU Band Day and the annual Band Show. The band and Honeybees also traveled to Disneyworld in Orlando, Florida.

Tunes played in the half-time show included 'No Business like Show Business,' 'Tie a Yellow Ribbon,' 'Rock Fantasia,' 'O Babe,' and 'Joshua.' Director of the band is Mr. Earl McConnell and choreographer is Mrs. Mildred McConnell.

Halftime Stars

23 Honeybees

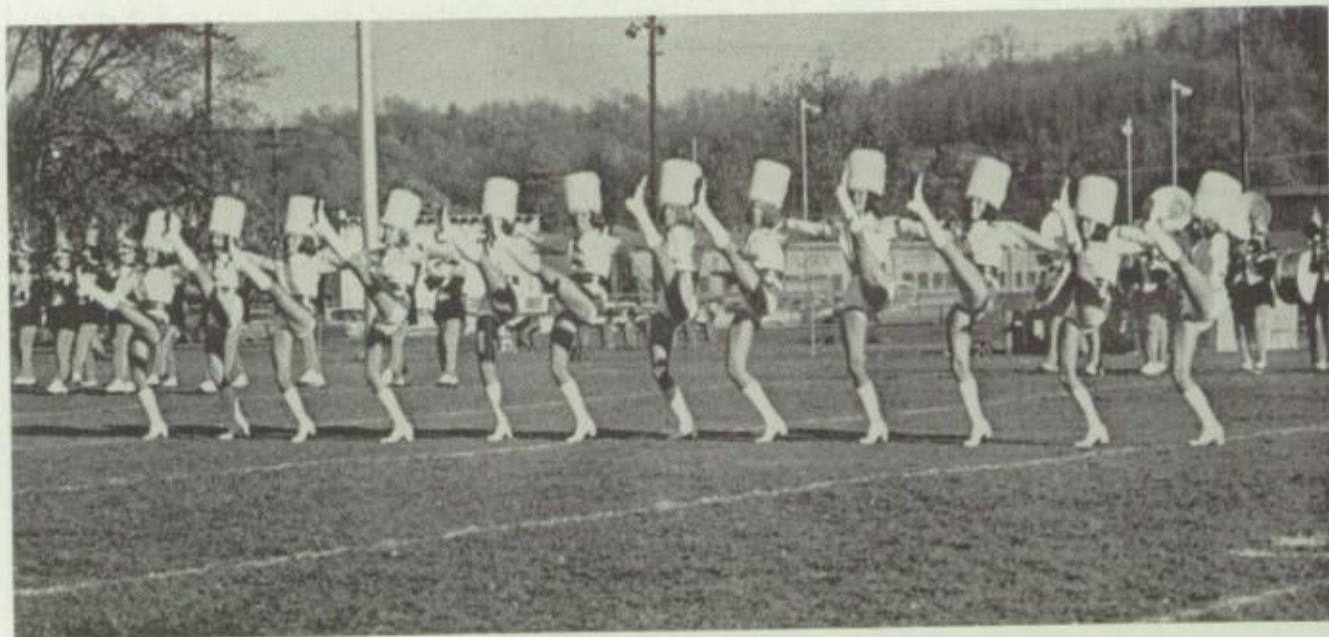

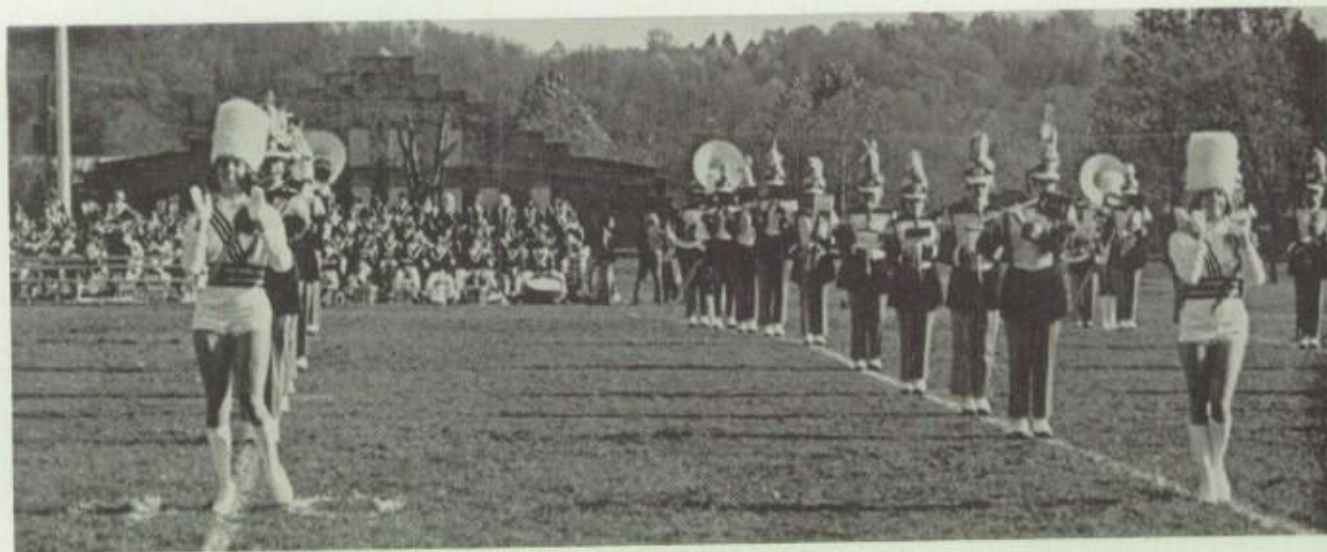

Half-time shows during football season were highlighted by the performances of the Honeybees. During the year, the Honeybees also performed in parades, thuses, band spectacles, West Virginia University Band Day, and the annual Majorette Meleé where Queen Bee Tracy Constable, senior, was chosen 1973-1974 Maid of Marion at East-West Stadium. This is the second consecutive year in which East has won the title.

When attending the Huntington Tri-State Band Festival, the Honeybees received the first place award for dancing, marching, poise and general appearance.

New to the Honeybee's attire this year are the show hats worn during field shows. Also, new white uniforms were made.

DECA Opens Bee Boutique

Bee Boutique, Distributive Education I's class store project, opened during the second semester of the school year. The store was stocked with various items, including EFHS T-shirts, jackets and small gift items. Store hours were from 7:50 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. It was managed entirely by the junior class.

Classroom students also assisted the DECA club in putting on the annual fashion show in December. It was presented in front of East Fairmont's student body. A price of 50¢ was charged with all profits going to the Distributive Education classes and the DECA club.

Ninth Graders Learn Skills

Entering East Fairmont High School this year, the Freshman Class met with many new changes such as changing classes, lockers and the abundance of students and teachers.

Selected to lead the class of 320 members was Belinda West with vice-president Jay Ford, secretary Luke Layman and treasurer Ott Meale.

Serving as cheerleaders for the Freshman Class were Penny Drummond, Leisa Snider, Bridget Vincent and Pam Reese.

Activities for the class were selling candles and holding a dance.

The class showed much enthusiasm by winning the spirit stick during East-West Week.

Sponsors for the class of '77 are Mrs. Betty Greaser and Tom Deadrick.

April Dance

Under the leadership of Gary Boyles, Colleen Clayton, Mary Martin and Kenny Bissett, sophomores, were involved in fund raising activities such as Christmas card sales, sponsoring a dance in the gym, selling place mats with West Virginia scenes on them and having a car wash.

Winning competition for the best hall during East-West Week, sophomores chose 'Beat the West Out of Fairmont' as their theme. A city was built in the main hall to illustrate the theme. Chosen 'King Spirit' was John Cale.

Serving as class sponsors were Mrs. June Forte and Mrs. Ginger Malone. The class meetings were held on each Tuesday.

Students Plan Spring Formal

Combining leadership with ability, the Junior Class got off to a roaring start.

With 385 members, the class was led by president Charlie Tennant, vice-president Jo Ellen Camele, secretary Tammy O'Neil and treasurer Gary Renaldo.

Juniors Linda Iaquina and Susie Smith were selected varsity cheerleaders.

Activities for the junior class were selling blue and gold beanies monogrammed with EFHS, selling candy bars, holding a dance with the theme 'Yesterday Once More' with Bobby Hank. The biggest activity was the Prom which was held April 27.

Sponsors for the class were Mr. Larry Hart and Mrs. Virginia Securo.

Class Presents Annual Dance

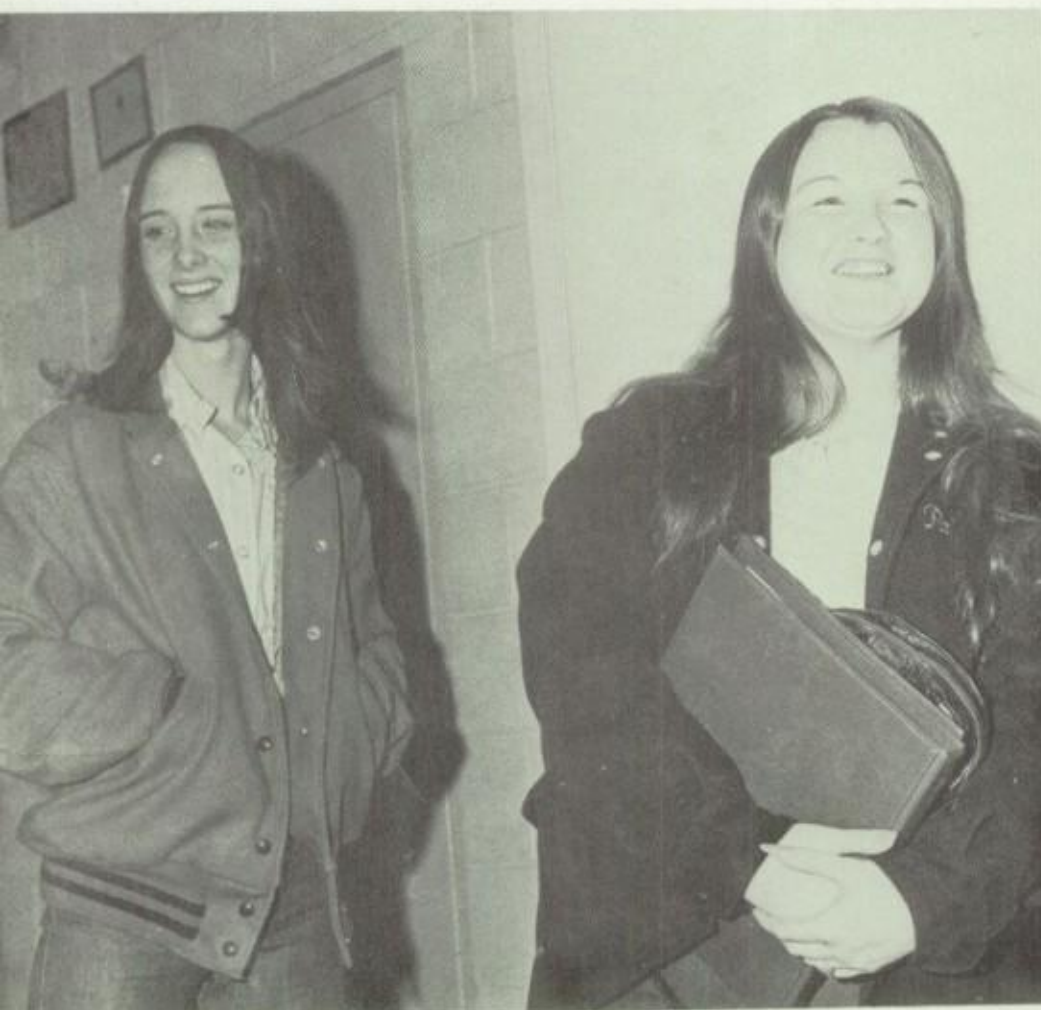

Selling candy bars, participating in East-West Week, preparing for the Miss East Dance, and planning graduation were the activities of the Senior Class led by president Holly DeVito.

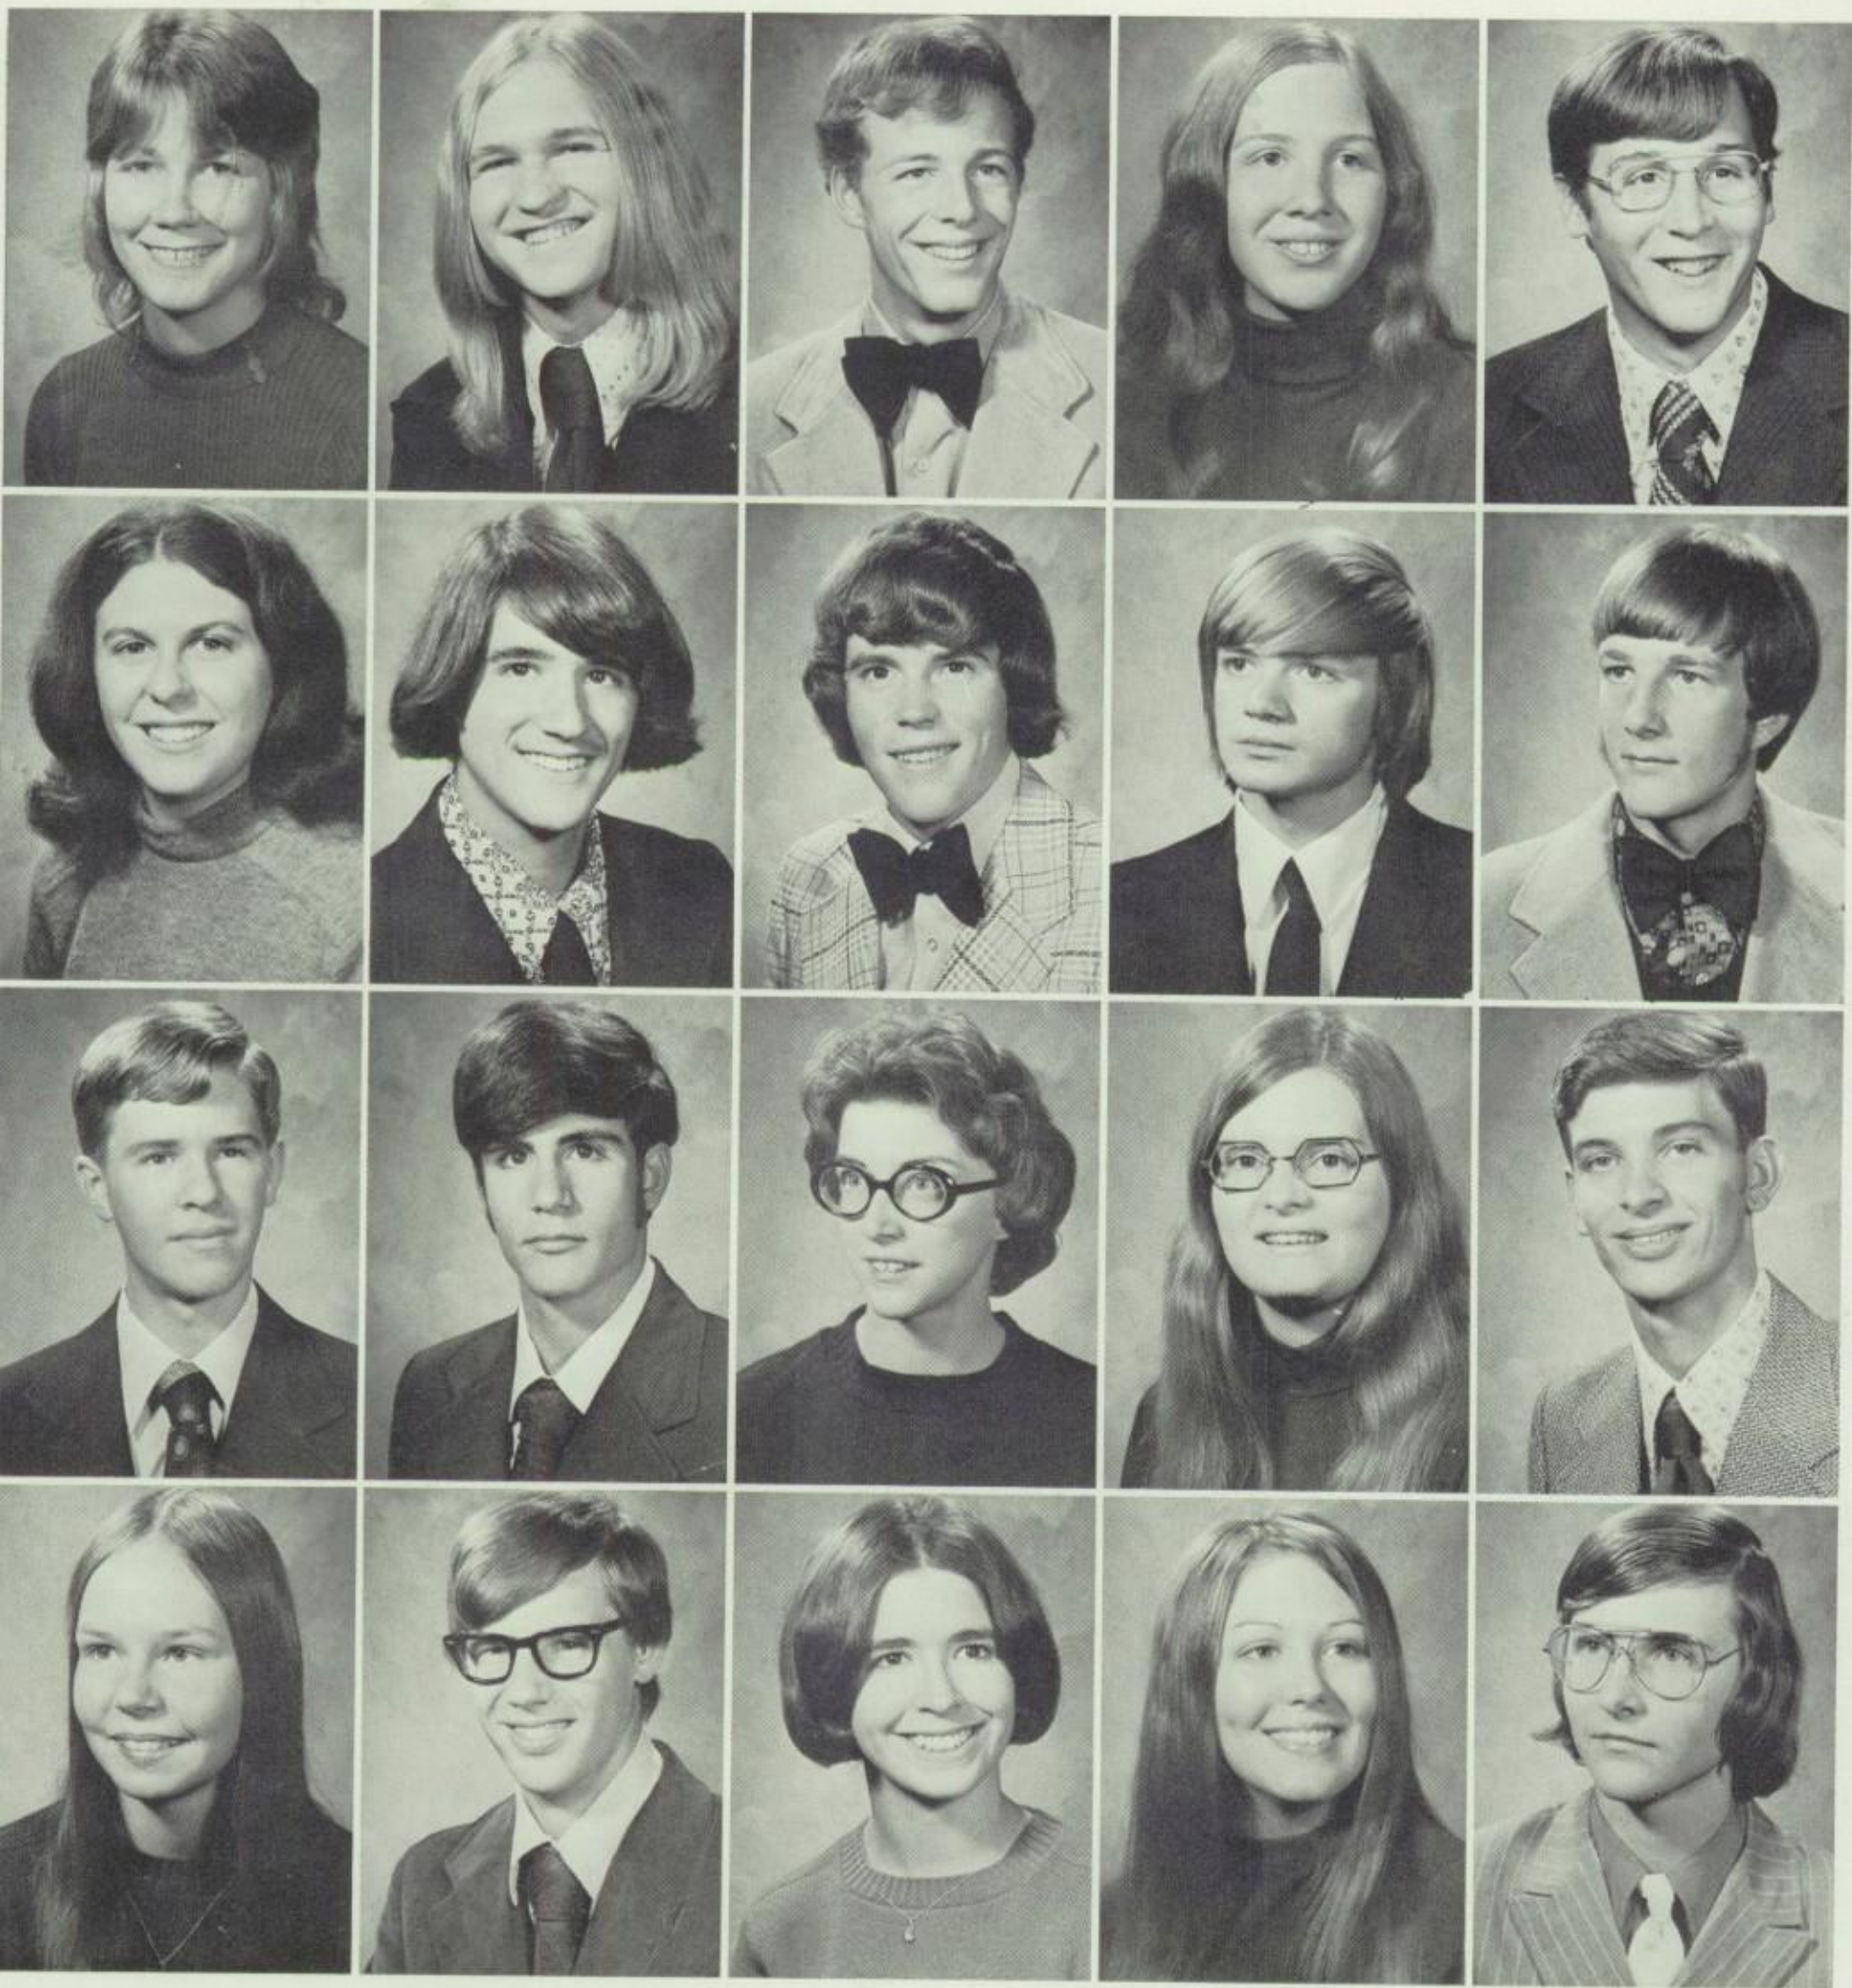

Other class officers are vice-president Pat Costello, secretary Lucy Wise, and delegate-at-large Sam Morrone. Class sponsors are Frank DiMaria, Mrs. Nancy Thompson, Albert Fultz, Bill Malone, Miss Elizabeth Layman, Mrs. Ouida McDonald, Dominick Muto, and Mrs. Robert Brookover.

To raise money the class also rented prom decorations from last year.

Class meetings were held at noon on Tuesday in Frank DiMaria's room.

Community

Let's put our hands out in

Dean Presides at Workshop

Serving as State Student Council president, Brad Dean directed activities at the State Student Council Workshop at Wesleyan College and at Convention at Jackson's Mill. He also conducted a meeting of the State Youth Council in Charleston with Governor Arch Moore present.

Gina Fantasia, Carla Long, Tish Mezzanotte, Ann Murray and Shelly Smith were representatives to Girls' State where Murray was elected president of the Senate. Steve Wilson and Jim Peluso attended Boys' State.

Yearly conventions were attended by Y-Teens, Key and Keyettes, the forensic team and DECA. Janis Breneman was chosen state DECA treasurer and Kim Hardway district representative.

Constable Wins Melee Title

Six 'Students of the Month' chosen by the Student-Teacher Forum, vied for 'Student of the Year' in the Elk's leadership competition. Submitting notebooks of past activities were Matt DeVito and Ann Murray. Tammy O'Neil and Charles Tennant were chosen to attend 'Know Your State Government Day' in Charleston.

Winning second place after tying first place winner in the regional Voice of Democracy contest was Toni Anselene. Chosen Queen of the Winfield Fair was Diane Cox who later reigned as 'Miss United Way.'

Commended for performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude National Merit Test was Jim Peluso. Tracy Constable was selected 'Maid of Marion.'

Girls 'Adopt' County Shelter

Participating in civic drives for the heart fund, March of Dimes and Red Cross, members of East's service clubs reached out into the community. Sponsoring monthly projects for the Marion County Children's Home to redecorate the interior, raise funds and call public attention to its needs was the project of the Keyette Club.

During summer months, seniors worked at community establishments such as the pool, as lifeguards; road commission, as maintenance workers; and playground, as attendants and maintenance crew workers.

Pat Costello coached a Pony League team in East Fairmont and students were involved in county 4-H clubs and scout groups.

There's got to be a morning after . . .

We're moving closer to that day

I know we'll be there

by tomorrow

And we'll escape the darkness

We won't be searching anymore . . .
